Search In Hills

In combat uniform, Vermont National Guard infantrymen go up the trail into the mountains from Bennington, Vt., as the search is resumed for 18-year-old Paula Welden, Bennington College student. The Stamford, Conn., girl has been missing since last Dec. 1.

'Left-Wingers Stabbed Me In The Back', Says Bevin

MARGATE, Kent, Eng. (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin won an almost unanimous vote of confidence on his administration of British foreign affairs from the Labor Party's annual conference here today.

Scarcely more than a score of the 1,200 delegates voted for resolutions critical of Bevin's foreign policy. The vote was by a show of hands and no official count was taken.

The endorsement followed a 90-minute speech in which Bevin accused left-wing Labor members of Parliament of stabbing him in the back while he was engaged in important discussions with the United States government.

"The day I was driving a good agreement with America to keep the bread ration from going down was the day I was stabbed in the back by the House (of Commons)," Bevin declared.

He did not specify what House action he referred to or the date. GREAT RECEPTION

Bevin, whose critics had put a host of resolutions opposing his policy on the conference agenda, was received with a tremendous ovation from the delegates.

Discussing world affairs, he declared world peace depended on solution of Asia's problems, and proposed that the 11 countries which were at war with Japan should take part in drawing up the Japanese treaty.

Bevin specifically mentioned Canada as a "Pacific power" and referred to concern felt by Australia and New Zealand about the treaty.

He declared the Japanese peace treaty would come "in the realm of practical politics very soon."

It would be unsatisfactory to try to settle the problem by discussion among four or five foreign ministers, as in the case of Germany, he added.

Discussing the Middle East, he said there seemed to be many suggestions Britain should give up her power over her possessions and throw them into a pool. But she could not go on doing this indefinitely as she did not feel the Commonwealth would go along with her in this respect.

DANGERS IN KOREA

Warning against too much preoccupation with European problems, he declared "Korea is a very grave danger spot—as dangerous in the Far East as anything in Europe." He added that future world peace would "depend to a very large extent upon the solution of the Indian problem."

Opponents of a "too-close" alliance between Britain and the United States earlier had launched a heavy attack on Bevin's policies.

Konni Zilliacus, outspokenly pro-Russian Labor member of Parliament, led off by moving approval of a resolution, the longest yet presented to the conference, which urged close co-operation between Britain and Russia.

"We believe that subservience to capitalist America will inevitably draw us into an anticipated slump and that the only way to avoid this is to co-operate with socialist economies," the resolution said.

Pearson In Hospital For Eye Operation

VANCOUVER (CP)—Labor Minister George S. Pearson is in a hospital here for an eye operation for removal of a cataract. The operation is to be performed almost immediately.

Mr. Pearson told friends during the last session of the Legislature that he would undergo the operation as soon as his physician returned to Vancouver from a trip.

4 Children Perish

LANETT, Ala. (AP)—Four children were burned to death Wednesday night when fire destroyed their home in the Hugely community, three miles from here. The mother of the children, Mrs. Henry Colson, was at work in a cotton mill. Coroner Clyde Blakely said the father was in jail charged with cutting a man last week.

The children were Curtis, 14; Irene, 6; Thomas, 4, and Virginia, 18 months.

More Immigration From Britain Soon, Says Ontario Premier

LONDON (CP)—Premier Drew of Ontario, a few hours before his return to Canada, today predicted that a speed-up in immigration to Canada from Great Britain and the continent will be possible this year and hinted that the Ministry of Transport will soon announce a greater allocation of shipping space than was originally intended.

Elsewhere it was learned negotiations are proceeding between the Canadian government and the ministry, through Canada House, to have the Cunard liner Aquitania left indefinitely on the Southampton-Halifax run, but a decision has not yet been reached.

Interviewed in the London office of the Agent-General for Ontario, J. P. Armstrong, the Ontario Premier said his brief visit to the United Kingdom and the continent had been "most satisfactory."

Special Session Of U.S. Congress May Be Convened

WASHINGTON (AP)—Possibility of a special foreign policy session of the United States Congress late this year unless major differences between Russia and the western powers are removed was raised today by a high-ranking Democrat who does not wish his name disclosed.

He predicted the administration will await the outcome of the United Nations' General Assembly session in September and the London Council of Foreign Ministers in November before reaching the decision.

He said if substantial progress has not been made by then, in resolving east-west friction, the United States must consider how its power and wealth can be used independently to restore economic stability outside the immediate sphere of Soviet influence.

The Democratic leader commented on a suggestion by former President Herbert Hoover for independent U.S. peace pacts with Germany and Japan.

OTHERS NEED AID

Factors behind possibility of a late fall or early winter session of Congress include:

1. There have been unofficial but persistent reports that the United States, pursuing the policy of attempting to halt Communist expansion as laid down in the Greek-Turkish aid bill, will be called on by other countries for financial aid to strengthen their economies.

2. There is a question of whether Britain, sorely in need of dollars for imports to rebuild her economy, will be able to continue a 50 per cent contribution in the joint British-U.S. occupation zone of Germany.

Premier Of Austria Accused By Soviets Goes On 'Vacation'

BUDAPEST (AP)—A high Hungarian source said today the Russians, in an official note, had accused Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy and two other officials of complicity in a recent plot to overthrow Hungarian "democracy."

This informant identified the two other officials as foreign Minister János Gyongyosi and Bela Varga, speaker of the house. All three men are members of the anti-Communist Smallholders' Party.

A government announcement May 14 said Nagy would leave that day for a three-week vacation in Switzerland and in Deputy Premier Matyas Rakosi, a Communist, would be left in charge. Private sources in Budapest said Nagy probably would stay longer than three weeks.

The government announcement followed by two days reports that Nagy was planning to leave for Switzerland and Paris to stall off another Communist-inspired "crisis" in his coalition government.

I.W.A. Here To Vote Next Week On Offer

Ballots are expected to be sent out to members of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) in the Victoria Local 1118 area next week for a referendum to determine whether the members wish to accept or reject the latest offer of the logging operators for a 1947 contract.

It was learned here today the ballots for taking the vote were being printed in Vancouver and they were expected to be available here next week for distribution among the I.W.A. membership.

An I.W.A. announcement in Vancouver, meanwhile, said members of the union would vote also on whether or not they wished to give the district policy committee of the union power to call a strike "falling satisfactory concessions" from the operators.

The operators' offer is 10 per cent wage increases for the 35,000 coast loggers.

Here It Is—You Can See It But Can't Hear It

What is described as the world's first silent airplane, the U.S. army's Stinson L-5, was unveiled at the laboratory of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at Langley Field, Va. A five-blade propeller driven at 1,000 r.p.m. by an engine geared-down by a ratio of 2.8 to 1 replaces the standard two-blade propeller driven directly by an engine operating at 2,500 r.p.m. This reduction in tip speed is the factor mostly responsible for the noise reduction.

11 Island Undergraduates Win Scholarships, Prizes At U.B.C.

Eleven University of British Columbia undergraduates from Victoria, Sidney and Duncan, including two Victoria brothers, have won scholarships and prizes for excellence in examinations written earlier this month, the university announced this afternoon.

Majority of the prizewinners for Vancouver Island are former Victoria College students who while studying here attained scholastic proficiency.

The list of prize and scholarship winners was supplied by the Canadian Press in Vancouver.

Topping the island students in third year arts and science is Dorothy May Tubbs, who last year at Victoria College won a special scholarship of $50 for excellence in Latin 2. She will receive the university scholarship for general proficiency.

David Ian William Braide, winner of the Alaska Pine Co. scholarship for economics and the J. W. DeGoe Foundation scholarship in social sciences, was also a Victoria College student last year, having played rugby on the college team. This year he played on the varsity team.

For general proficiency in second year arts and science Pamela Isabella Elliott Christy of Victoria has won a university scholarship.

In third-year applied science George Winslowe Hobson, a scholarship winner at Victoria College during 1944, has won the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. Ltd. scholarship for highest marks in mechanical engineering.

To his brother, John Peter Hobson, who attended Victoria College in 1941 and 1942, goes a university scholarship for general proficiency. He is in second-year applied science.

David Charles Holmes, who in 1944 at the end of his freshman year at Victoria College won the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. (Victoria) Sir Percy Lake Memorial Scholarship of $150, has been awarded the Canadian Forest Products Ltd. scholarship for highest marks in forest engineering. He has just completed his third year in the faculty of arts and science at the university.

The Royal Institution Scholarship for general proficiency in first year, faculty of applied science, goes to John Wallace Colbert of Victoria.

Finishing up his sophomore year in the faculty of agriculture, David Livingston McIntosh of Victoria won the David Thom scholarship for general proficiency.

Winning Frosst proficiency awards in pharmacy were Bryan Renouf Baal, Sidney, and Arthur R. Mann, Duncan, both former Victoria College students.

Perry Stimson Millar, Victoria, won the Norgan essay prize in an essay contest conducted among second-year students.

Truman Returns

KANSAS CITY (AP)—President Truman left for Washington by air today after last-minute assurances of the continued improvement of his ailing mother.

Earlier he had telephoned nearby Granville to get a report on the condition of 94-year-old Mrs. Martha E. Truman. Her surprising comeback during the last few days enabled him to give up a 12-day visit at her bedside.

40 Polish Girls Make Ocean Hop

BANGOR, Me. (AP)—Forty Slavic girls, displaced persons from war-ravaged Europe who are looking forward to new economic life in St. Georges, Que., spinning mill employment, arrived today at the Bangor airport from Frankfurt, Germany, aboard a Transocean Air Lines plane.

Hustled through customs, immigration and health examinations, the girls were to board buses for the 150-mile trip to Quebec and their new homes.

1,000 Men Needed

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—W. L. Forrester, National Employment Service manager here, said today that within a month Prince George will require 1,000 additional men for mining and logging operations and for work on the Hart Highway to the Peace River.

Mr. Forrester said that 75 men were hired during the last week by the Campbell Mannix Co., which has 300 men employed on the highway. A double shift will be instituted Monday, which is expected to leave the district 500 men short of immediate needs.

30 Hurt In Wreck

LONDON (Reuter)—More than 30 persons were injured when a London-Manchester express train was derailed while traveling at high speed this afternoon. According to first reports there were no fatalities.

House Fall Fatal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Henry Givins, 72, died in hospital here today from injuries suffered in a fall from the roof of a house Wednesday. He was working on the new house with his son when he slipped and plummeted through a hole left for installation of the chimney. The hole had been temporarily covered by tar paper.

Young MacArthur Hurt

T.C.A. Planes Fly Into Germany

WINNIPEG (CP)—Permission for Trans-Canada Air Lines aircraft to fly into Germany was obtained for a problem for Ludger Dionne, Liberal member of Parliament for Beauce and Quebec industrialist, W. F. English, vice-president in charge of operations for T.C.A. said today.

Mr. Dionne, who selected 100 Polish girls for work in his spinning mill at St. Georges de Beauce, Que., had intended to take them to Brussels, but was unable to get shipping space to accommodate them for the trip to Canada, Mr. English said.

He put his problem up to United States army authorities in Frankfurt, and after further negotiations through the External Affairs Department at Ottawa, permission was obtained for chartered T.C.A. aircraft to land at Frankfurt and fly the girls to Canada.

The flights represented the first time the T.C.A. had been permitted to fly into Germany, Mr. English said.

A dispatch from Frankfurt Wednesday night said one plane had already left for Canada, and that 60 girls, ranging in age from 16 to 27 and mostly war orphans, would follow today and Friday aboard other aircraft.

Mr. Dionne said the girls workers, chosen by representatives of a U.S. Roman Catholic welfare agency, the Vatican Mission and displaced Polish priests, had signed two-year contracts to work in his mill at prevailing wage rates.

Union Charges Company With Breaking Pact

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—Freeman Jenkins, president of District 26, United Mine Workers (C.C.L.), today charged the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation with a breach of the agreement that ended the 99-day strike of 13,000 maritime coal mines and ordered the miners to "cease work immediately."

A union official explained the breach had to do with Dosco's streamlining policy of dismissals and replacement of the working force in some categories. He described the break as "temporary" and said that international officers from the Washington office had been called to participate in further negotiations leading to a final settlement.

The "cease work" order did not apply to small operations, he declared, but covered the Dosco pits in Cape Breton, the Acadia Collieries at Stellarton, the old Sydney Colliery and the Cumberland Coal and Railway Company pits in Cumberland County.

These pits employ a majority of maritime miners.

"This work stoppage might be only a brief one," the official said, adding that he was hopeful points at argument would be cleared up with the arrival of the international officers and the discussions which would follow their arrival.

Mr. Jenkins released the text of a telegram he had sent to Harold C. M. Gordon, chief of Dosco's coal operations, in which he charged the company with a violation of the tentative agreements which sent the miners back to work Tuesday. He also announced his instructions to the working force to "cease operations" immediately.

There was no indication yet as to whether the miners had started leaving the pits, but a union official disclosed that the big No. 1-B colliery at Glace Bay was idle Wednesday and the Glace Bay Victory colliery was idle today.

Crew Of Nova Scotians Saved As Fishing Vessel Capsizes

NEW YORK (CP)—The eight-man crew of the Yarmouth, N.S., dragger Laura Grace Peter, which sank early today after collision with the British steamship Rockwood Clark, are safe aboard the British vessel and will be taken to Saint John, N.B., the United States Coast Guard reported today.

The Coast Guard said the collision occurred Wednesday night in dense fog at a position known as George's Bank. The Rockwood Clark, a vessel of 2,877 gross tons, was bound from Jamaica to Halifax.

The scene of the collision is 130 miles from the Massachusetts coast.

At West Pubnico, N.J., Albert d'Entremont, owner of the vessel operated by a West Pubnico crew but sailing out of Yarmouth, said he had received news of the mishap by radio from another Yarmouth vessel which had also been fishing in the vicinity.

(The R.C.A.F. air-sea rescue unit at Halifax reported picking up a wireless message from the Rockwood Clark, confirming the safety of the eight-crew members.)

D'Entremont said the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Legare was en route to the scene. The Gloucester dragger Mary reported the capsized vessel as sinking fast with only one foot of the starboard side of her black hull remaining out of water.

The owner of the 70-foot vessel said she had sailed from Yarmouth Saturday for her second scallop fishing trip to George's Bank off Boston. An earlier trip two weeks ago marked the first time a dragger from here had fished on the American banks.

Puzzling Drowning Of Ontario Bride Still Under Probe

TORONTO (CP)—Police today denied a report an arrest is imminent in connection with the mysterious drowning of pretty Christina Kettlewell, bride of eight days.

A senior law officer said the police still were "only in the middle of the investigation."

No charges have been laid in the strange case which started with discovery of the 22-year-old girl's body in the Severn River near Orillia in Ontario's Muskoka district May 20. On that day also the groom, Jack Kettlewell, was removed in a dazed condition from the honeymoon cottage near Orillia while the cottage burned to the ground from unknown causes.

The two principals in the case, Jack Kettlewell and Ronald Barrie, Kettlewell's long-time friend and best man at the wedding, have been questioned by provincial police, who revealed nothing of a long statement given by Barrie. Barrie owned the honeymoon cottage and removed Kettlewell during the fire.

In a long conference with police Wednesday Barrie is said to have denied being the purchaser of a $1,000 wedding ring and the bride's trousseau. Another attendant at the wedding said there was only a plain gold wedding ring.

A young Hamilton resident, 19-year-old Eddie Skura who had kept company with the girl before her marriage, was quoted as saying in Hamilton Wednesday that the girl might have been alive today if he had been at home when she called there the evening before the wedding. He thought she must have had something else to tell him besides her plans for marrying Kettlewell.

T. Eaton Co. Buys Old Hotel Vancouver Mayor McGeer Says

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator G. G. McGeer, Mayor of Vancouver, said today in an interview that the old Vancouver Hotel has been purchased by a departmental store company (Eaton's) which promises to erect a commercial building on the site.

"I don't think," said the outspoken Liberal Senator from British Columbia, "that we want any more department stores in Vancouver."

"If I had my way there wouldn't be any department stores anywhere, they, and chain stores, have a disastrous effect upon the tax values of land and property in every city where they exist."

The hotel, now a veterans' hostel housing more than 1,200 persons, is in the centre of the downtown shopping area.

A T. Eaton Co. officer confirmed the company had an option on the building, on which the hotel lease expires April, 1948, but said he was "quite sure" it had not been purchased.

Horned Mine Adrift Off Island's Coast

A floating, horned mine, presumably of Japanese origin, is in the path of trans-Pacific shipping off the north end of Vancouver Island, it was reported today by the federal department of transport.

W. L. Stamford, agent for the department here, advises mariners that the mine is reported to be in position, Lat. N. 50 deg. 33 min., 05 sec. long. W. 136 deg. 04 min., 05 sec.

U.S. Army Reasonably Certain Next War Would Come From Arctic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States army believes that if there is another war its main defences must be "on the Arctic frontier."

Without naming any possible aggressor, Gen. Carl Spaatz, Commanding General of the Army Air Forces, told the House of Representatives appropriations committee during a hearing on the 1948 Military Supply Bill sent to the House floor today:

"As we fabricated this budget... we had continually in mind the concept of the Arctic frontier. While none of us, of course, knows when war may come, we can with reasonable assurance tell whence it will come."

"Wars of a scale or magnitude adversely to affect the United States must be compounded of two primary elements—a large population which may become warlike, and a vast industrial resource for the production of weapons."

"Reference to a globe representing the earth's surface will show at once that the southern hemisphere may be dismissed. There are no vast populations there and there is no great industrial capacity south of the Equator."

"There are three possible areas in the northern hemisphere where these two conditions do exist."

"The first is in western Europe, where both the First and Second World wars originated. The second is in eastern Eurasia and the nearby islands of the western Pacific whence the Japanese jumped off the last time."

"The third is the land mass of central Asia."

"It is certain that the weapon of the future which will immediately attack us and which must give us the gravest concern is the long-range bomber or the long-range guided missile. Either of these weapons will follow great circle courses."

OVER THE ARCTIC

"Trace great circle courses from either of the three areas mentioned above to the industrial centres of the United States and we find that all of these courses thus described pass over or near the Arctic regions."

"We can divine, therefore, that if our defences are to be between us and the enemy they must be on the Arctic frontier. Likewise, if our own weapons are to move to the war chests of the enemy they must follow the same courses and have the range, the speed and the characteristics to follow the same pathways to the war-making potential of the enemy."

Other army officers backed up the war department's request for funds to finance large-scale manoeuvres in the Arctic regions and to develop missiles that will travel through the upper air at 3,000 miles an hour.

Labor More Vigorous Than New Deal: Wallace

DENVER (AP) — Henry A. Wallace declared Wednesday the leadership of the British Labor government is "more vital and vigorous than the Roosevelt cabinet at its best."

Wallace, here for an address sponsored by the Rocky Mountain Council for Social Action, said he thought Britain handled the Communists more intelligently than the United States by "treating them as human beings and competing with them" in the government.

He declined to reply to charges which a Denver Post Washington story said had been made against him by President Truman in a letter to Louis E. Starr, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Post story said Mr. Truman's letter had called Wallace a "publicity hound" and accused him of making "wild statements" about the administration's foreign policy.

Advised of the reported letter in a press conference, Wallace said it was "not worthy of comment."

JAPAN TACKLES PROBLEM OF HIGH PRICES—Cut-price posters in front of the Mitsukoshi department store in Tokyo are examined by prospective customers. Good headway is reported in the city, with 78 per cent of the stores backing the government's drive to lower prices of commodities.

Judge Says Parents Should Go To Church

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson of the B.C. Supreme Court believes that parents of children who do not go to church "should be jailed for delinquency."

Thirteen-year-old James F. Porter, called as a witness in the trial of Harry Medos on a charge of murder, told the court he did not go to church.

"Well," said Mr. Justice Manson, "your people should be jailed for delinquency. What church do your people stay away from?" "I don't know, sir," replied the youth, who added he had been to Sunday school and knew he would be punished if he did not tell the truth.

Medos is charged with the gunslaying of a policeman here Feb. 26 after a bank hold-up had been frustrated. Young Porter was one of three boys who witnessed the pistol battle.

Judge Says Notices For School Tax Out Of Order

WILLIAMS LAKE (CP)—Judge John Holt of the court of revision, dealing with appeals against excessive taxation for school purposes under the School Act, Wednesday ruled the tax notices were out of order and should be withdrawn.

"These taxes are wrong and I intend to send a recommendation to the provincial surveyor of taxes to call in the assessment notices," he said. "I believe the land should be taxed on the basis of the five-mill rate as set out in the School Act."

He said it was wrong to assess at the 11.73 mill rate when the taxpayer had no school and was forced to pay additional costs in sending children to areas where there were schools.

Most of the appeals were filed by members of the Cariboo Cattlemen's Association. Many of their appeals were returned by the tax collector because they had exceeded the 14-day limit allowed.

However, Judge Holt said he would hear all the cases the court had time for, as the time limit was insufficient for the Williams Lake one-mail-a-week area.

British Glass To Ease Shortage

VANCOUVER (CP)—The acute glass shortage in B.C. is expected to be somewhat alleviated with the arrival Wednesday of 40 tons of plate glass and 55 tons of window glass from England in the Furness Line's Pacific Enterprise. Another ship is expected here June 18 with 270 tons of glass.

Death Toll Decreases

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council said today 9,250 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents in the United States during the first four months of 1947, a decrease of 14 per cent compared with the corresponding period last year.

Brothers Warned Of Fatal Flight

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Helen Harrison, flying instructor and ferry pilot during the Second World War, said today she talked for "more than an hour" to try to dissuade Glen and William Lee from making the air trip in their light two-seater aircraft which ended in their deaths on the Hope-Princeton Highway Wednesday.

Mrs. Harrison said the Lee brothers were on their way to Estevan, Sask., to take delivery of another plane with which to begin a flying school at Vanderhoof, B.C. She was to have managed the school and given flying lessons.

"I did not think Len Lee had enough flying experience," Mrs. Harrison said, adding that when she saw they were determined to go, she warned them particularly not to fly up the valley in which their wrecked plane later was found.

Searchers who flew over the wreck said the brothers had apparently pulled up the plane to avoid a cliff, stalled, and plummeted to the highway. The back half of the small plane was found on the edge of the highway, while the front portion, containing the engine and the bodies of the two airmen, was located over another cliff on a pile of rocks 50 feet below.

2 Brothers Die In Plane Crash

HOPE, B.C. (CP)—Two brothers were killed Wednesday when their two-seater plane crashed on the Hope-Princeton Highway after swerving to miss a mountain peak.

The dead: Glen A. Lee, president of Lee Transport Ltd., Vanderhoof, and William Lee, the pilot.

"It looked as if the pilot had to come down in a nose dive," said Stanley Mulligan, a construction worker, who witnessed the crash. "The two chaps were instantly killed."

The plane left the Vancouver airport early Wednesday, was forced down at an emergency field a few miles west of Hope because of unfavorable weather, and crashed shortly after the flight had been resumed.

The Lee brothers were reported en route to Estevan, Sask., to purchase a second plane.

Bank Deposits Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Dominion government deposits increased $21,073,000 to $170,809,000 in the week ended May 28, the Bank of Canada reported today in its weekly bank statement. Deposits by chartered banks increased $12,051,000 to $488,363,000, while notes in circulation decreased by $1,253,000 to $1,147,121,000.

U.S. Colonel Gets 10 Years For Taking Diamonds From Japan

YOKOHAMA (AP) — Edward J. Murray, a United States colonel of infantry who won his decorations in combat, today heard an army court-martial sentence him to 10 years' imprisonment for misappropriation of a fortune in diamonds he had taken home as "souvenirs of war."

The California officer was convicted of all six specifications filed against him, covering misappropriation of the stones and failure to declare them or pay customs on them. He also was ordered dismissed from the service with forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

The sentence is subject to review by the United States 8th Army commander, Lt. Gen. Robert L. Elcheberger, who may reduce but not increase the term. The War Department also will review the case.

Although the jewels he was charged with taking during his custodianship of the Bank of Japan vaults were valued at first at $210,000, the court reduced this to $92,000. Murray has never revealed the source of the gems.

Murray himself, in the only statement he made to the court, said he was ignorant of the diamonds' value until after he had taken them home in March, 1946, and a diamond broker offered his wife "a price which astonished her by its size."

"To the best of my knowledge," his written statement asserted, the diamonds "were never in the custody of the United States" until he himself handed them over to customs officials who had challenged and searched him in San Francisco.

Judgment Reserved

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judgment was reserved by the B.C. Court of Appeal Wednesday on the appeal by Premier Investments (Victoria) Ltd. of a decision of Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in Victoria, Feb. 27, awarding Adrien Walter Born, Oak Bay merchant, $1,000 which he claimed to have paid the company for shares of stock that were never delivered.

Coal Car Smashes
Mine Locomotive
At Nanaimo; 3 Hurt

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Three men are in hospital as the result of a 50-ton runaway coal car smashing into a standing mine locomotive at Storm, near Cassidy.

The injured: Engineer J. B. Sickman of Nanaimo, conductor Thomas Russell of Ladysmith, and relief fireman Stanley Bodman of Nanaimo.

The coal car from White Rapids Mine, Canadian Collieries Ltd., demolished the locomotive, coming around a bend at terrific speed.

All three were badly injured. White Rapids Coal Mine output travels over the Comox Logging Company's right-of-way to a point near Cassidy, where it switches back on to the Esquimalt and Nanaimo tracks into Nanaimo. The crash occurred on Comox logging tracks.

Sugar Rationing
Likely To Stay

OTTAWA (CP)—Abandonment of sugar rationing is "out of the question for some time to come," Finance Minister Abbott said Wednesday in the Commons.

Answering question asked previously by John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre) about heavy sugar stocks in Canada, Mr. Abbott said the reason for the large stocks was that Canada had been receiving substantial shipments from Cuba.

He said Canada's allocation this year would be about 80 pounds per capita, nine pounds above last year's allotment but 10 pounds under prewar per capita consumption.

English Cricket

LONDON (Reuter)—South Africa's bowlers came out on top in the first day's play of their game with a combined services eleven and dismissed them for 182 runs.

Scores:

Surrey vs. Northamptonshire: Northamptonshire first innings 308; Surrey first innings 75 for one.

Lancashire vs. Sussex: Lancashire first innings 258; Sussex first innings 137 for two.

Leicestershire vs. Essex: Leicestershire first innings 420 for nine.

Warwickshire vs. Yorkshire: First innings 113, second innings 166 for five; Warwickshire first innings 47.

Cambridge University vs. Middlesex first innings 283; Cambridge University 70 for two.

Field cricketers usually live outdoors and feed on vegetation.

Tourists Advised Not To Visit
Island, Duncan Chamber Hears

DUNCAN—Upon reports that would-be tourists were advised to avoid visiting Vancouver Island because of the "disgraceful conditions of the roads," Duncan Chamber of Commerce planned to send a delegation to the Minister of Public Works E. C. Carson at Victoria.

At a meeting held to elect officers, chamber members discussed the road question fully. They agreed that the reports of tourists being advised to keep away from Vancouver Island should be brought to the attention of the Department of Trade and Industry.

The Duncan chamber will ask the Lake Cowichan and Malahat chambers to join with them in sending a delegate to Victoria to seek immediate action on the road question.

W. W. Seymour was elected president of the Duncan chamber; Winter Cook, vice-president, and Capt. A. Hall, secretary-treasurer. Elected to the executive committee were: J. B. Creighton, E. Evans, H. Gray, N. Goulay, F. W. Hitchcox, J. S. Lawrence, Harvey Lowe, G. Sanderson, J. R. Stewart and C. R. West.

Mr. Lawrence was appointed a delegate to attend a meeting sponsored by the Duncan Kinsmen Club at which plans for formation of a civic social centre, will be brought forward and discussed.

They are Prince Philip von Hessen, Prince August Wilhelm of Prussia, Erbprinz (hereditary prince) Friedrich Christian zu Schaumburg Lippe, and Erbprinz Ernst zu Lippe-Detmold.

Prince von Hessen, a great-grandson of Queen Victoria, has been a prisoner since he was arrested by Hitler in 1943 when Italy surrendered to the Allies. He acted as Hitler courier to Mussolini on the occasion of the Austrian Anschluss as well as after the invasion of Czechoslovakia. He is expected to testify on the circumstances surrounding his surrender of the Gestapo for euthanasia killings while acting as president of the province of Hesse-Kassel.

Prince August Wilhelm, who served as an S.S. brigadier-general, is the son of the late German Kaiser. It is believed he will testify in the trial of members of Nazi ministries.

Erbprinz Ernst served as personal adviser to the Nazi minister for food and agriculture, Walter Darre, who will come up for trial shortly in one of the ministry cases, and he will testify in several trials.

No Election Foreseen
For This Year In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan's political forecasters see little likelihood today that Canada's only socialist government will call an election before next year even while they are trying to gauge the scope and future of mergers of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives in several constituencies.

However, there has been no lack of so-called election issues.

When section 6 of the C.C.F.'s Farm Security Act was declared ultra vires of the province by the Supreme Court of Canada May 13, political circles immediately talked the possibility of an election on the issue of the legislation, which provided for reduced interest on farmers' debts during crop failure years.

KEY LABOR LAWS

Another was provided six days later when the King's Bench court declared ultra vires five key labor laws—described by the government as the most advanced on the continent—where they affected employees of the two major railways and their subsidiaries.

Earlier, 43-year-old Premier T. C. Douglas had said he was ready to go to the people on the record of the compulsory hospital services program which went into effect last Jan. 1.

But there has been no indication from the government that an election will be called before next year, when the C.C.F. will have served the normal four-year term.

However, the political flurry appears to have sparked opposition forces to new energy on both a united front and party lines.

Liberals and Progressive Conservatives met this afternoon at Limerick in the Nottkeu-Willowbunch constituency, 100 miles southwest of Regina, to nominate one candidate "to oppose socialism."

RIGHT CLEARLY DEFINED

Walter Tucker, 48-year-old Saskatchewan Liberal leader and member of Parliament for the Northern Saskatchewan constituency of Rosthern, said of a similar program at Saskatoon that it was in accordance "with the democratic right of every constituency to decide for itself when it would nominate and who it would nominate."

Union of supporters of Canada's two major political parties has also taken place at Melfort, where it was decided last week to support one candidate to be nominated later.

At Regina, the capital and largest of the agricultural province's cities—where opposition to the C.C.F. is believed to be strongest—a "representative" group of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives also has formulated plans for concerted action.

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent will head a list of special awards of honorary doctor of laws degrees to be conferred at the annual convocation of the University of Ottawa June 8, it was announced Wednesday.

Among others receiving the degree will be Dr. A. M. Norman MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia and chairman of the National Confederation of Canadian Universities.

Landslide Ruins Homes

TOKYO (AP)—A landslide in Nobudani village has engulfed 100 acres of farm fields and 53 residences, leaving approximately 500 persons homeless. Allied headquarters has been informed. The Nobudani River was reported choked by the landslide, which began its slide 10 days ago, and was overflowing its banks.

Gun Runners Captured

CAIRO (Reuter)—A 17-camel convoy carrying a huge quantity of arms and ammunition was seized in the Western Desert 70 miles south of Mersa Matruh yesterday after a running gun battle with the Egyptian Frontier Camel Corps. The capture was made after desert patrols had "shadowed" the gun-runners nearly 40 hours.

A FINE MEMORIAL

THOSE BRITISH COLUMBIANS AND Canadians elsewhere who have watched with an absorbing interest the magnificent work of the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay will have experienced a sense of profound gratitude as they learned that this Vancouver Island institution is to benefit so substantially under the will of the late Mr. William K. Esling. A newspaperman for many years in the province of his adoption, an experienced parliamentarian in both provincial and federal realms—always a staunch supporter of the policy of conservatism—he was a man who never permitted his judgment on public questions to be swayed by political predilections. He was a British Columbian of broad vision, a humanitarian by instinct, and it was perhaps the loss of his sight several years ago that sharpened an already quickened interest in all those who were similarly or otherwise afflicted. In other words, "Billy" Esling, as he was always known to his intimates and his parliamentary colleagues, was a good man—a citizen of unsurpassed probity. His benefaction to the establishment at Mill Bay adds lustre to his name and memory. It constitutes one of the finest memorials any Canadian could wish.

THE LIVING DEAD

AN INDICATION OF THE PRECARIOUS living conditions of the Nazi criminals who so far have escaped Allied justice is seen in the frequent news items reporting that another fugitive has been taken into custody. Among the latest to be apprehended was Gen. Eric Neumann, who was one of Himmler's chief henchmen in the Gestapo. United States war crimes investigators sought him for two years until he was discovered a few days ago. The one-time Nazi general was working on a Bavarian farm. Almost at the same time, investigators found another long-sought Nazi—a Major Eichler—also at work on a farm. One is stirred to wonder what thoughts possess the minds of these fugitives as they—about their daily rounds—the ever-present fear of detection, the recollections of past glories when they strutted in full power, the disgust with their present menial state, the questioning of what the future holds for their old age even if they escape their pursuers. There can be little happiness in their lives as one by one they are tracked down and turned over to face legal courts and juries. Whether they feel remorse at what they have done, or merely regret at having been defeated, there can be little in their existing circumstances to foster any hopes of once again climbing the heights. German Nazism is dead, and so, for all practical purposes are the people who built it.

GAZING AT THE STARS

TWO PROPOSALS WHICH MET WITH the approval of the delegates to the third annual convention of the British Columbia section of the Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Movement during last week-end will be noted with more than passing interest by the thinking public of this province. One is that old age pensions be set at $65 a month for a single person, and not less than $100 a month for married couples, to begin at the age of 55. The other is that these young people favored the legalization of lotteries and raffles for charitable institutions until such time as the government "accepts its responsibility to the population in this connection." All single men and women in British Columbia who have reached the age of 55 would vote with both hands for a pension of $65 a month. Nor is it conceivable that any married couple would object to a monthly emolument from the state of $100. But what the ardent, youthful members of the C.C.F. do not explain to the people is where the revenue is to come from to pay these increased pensions. Nothing in the report of the Woodsworth Hall deliberations seems to elucidate this vital point. Surely the more intelligent and far-seeing members of Canada's third party will want to know what the rising generation espousing the socialistic doctrine means when it says that it favors lotteries for charitable institutions "until such time as the government accepts its responsibility to the population in this connection." The question to be asked of this or any other branch of the C.C.F., in view of the decisions reached in Victoria, is a simple one: Will all these young men and women who dealt with the two matters to which we have referred be agreeable to the deduction from their wage cheques of a sum calculated to form a substantial contribution to a national fund that would meet their demands in respect to old age pensions and, at the same time, enable "the government" to provide a still further sum of money to relieve all charitable institutions of their financial difficulties?

Far be it from us to discourage a discussion of such humanitarian problems as those inherent in the obligation which this nation owes to the men and women who have borne the heat and burden of the day.

But what all young Canadians, regardless of sex and background, who are destined to become the leaders of tomorrow should bear in mind is the necessity to view economic realities from a logical perspective.

MONEY IN A MATTRESS

A PART FROM THE OVER-ALL LOSS represented in the $60,000 fire which destroyed the new Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd. shingle mill bunkhouse at Vancouver yesterday, there is a personal tragedy told succinctly in the sentence stating that one workman lost $400 savings he had hidden in a mattress. This is by no means a new story. Periodically the public learns of the misfortunes of those who seek to secrete their treasure in strange hiding places. In innumerable cases—and they have occurred in this city as well as elsewhere—fire has searched out hidden currency and destroyed it. It is difficult, in this day and age, to understand the lack of trust shown by some individuals in institutions which make a business of protecting savings. Yet some people persist in keeping their money in an old tin, in the proverbial sock, or even a vase on the mantelpiece. Such hiding places can offer none of the security furnished by a bank. And when fire sweeps a building it claims not only physical property but these savings as well. Sympathy which will be extended to the shingle mill workman will be tinged by an inclination to see in his misfortune a condition he brought on himself.

HIGHLY OPTIMISTIC

ONE OF THE OFFICIALS OF BRITISH Columbia's Travel Bureau has predicted that the revenue from holiday makers who come to this province this year will reach as high as $50,000,000, $76,000,000 more than in 1946, or $28,000,000 in excess of that of 1945. We hope his estimate proves to be correct. He is nothing if not optimistic. His computation seems to be based on the visible inclination of many Americans to spend their vacations outside their native land. Nothing is further from our mind than a desire to dampen the provincial official's ardor or to cloud his highly-optimistic evaluation of the tourist prospects for 1947. This year should be an excellent money maker for that substantial element in British Columbia which profits from the spending of American dollars—dollars, by the way, of which Canada stands in urgent need. And the more visitors this province attracts from the neighboring Republic, the better will the nation's whole economy be served. Well and good.

But let us keep our feet on the ground, or, to change the metaphor, let our sights not be set too high lest it be found that we have missed the bull's-eye by a long shot when it is possible to estimate the returns with some degree of accuracy. For the job of arriving at a figure that will faithfully reflect the actual revenue from the tourist business is both complex and difficult. It is the same with the merchant who advertises in the newspapers. Except in specific cases he is rarely able to put his finger on the particular piece of publicity which brought new or additional business. It is the aggregate turnover which enables him to place a value on his appropriations for public sales talk. By the same token, therefore, so must the government travel bureau view its spending of the taxpayers' money.

IDLE COMPLAINTS

THE COMPLAINT OF OUR MORNING contemporary over the length of time which the federal government has allowed itself for repayment of the wartime "compulsory loans" appears at first glance to be a case of mingling that journal's short memory with an attempt to set up adverse criticism no matter what the basis. And closer analysis confirms this conclusion.

What seems to be forgotten are the circumstances under which the "compulsory loans" were collected—the fact that money was needed from every available source to finance our fight for life, that the government in its extreme need could easily have imposed heavier taxation rather than merely borrowing the money on a temporary basis, that return of the money was promised "after the war," and that definite dates have been set for the carrying out of this promise, and finally that the delay in returning these savings to the mass of the population has been a factor in helping to keep down the rising pressure on general price levels.

For most taxpayers, the amount of the yearly enforced savings was not large. As far as family budgets go, the sums were generally considered as spent, in the same way that ordinary tax payments are written off. For the vast majority, the return of the savings will be in the nature of a gift or bonus (prospects of which many would have been glad to forego as an aid to their country's victory), and just as welcome next year and in following years as it would have been at an earlier date. Advocacy of an earlier and larger burden on the federal government comes poorly from a source whose chief comment on the recent popular tax cuts was merely that they should have been larger.

FOR BETTER COMMANDERS-IN-CHIEF

OF THE United States bill (S. 758) for a national defence establishment, it may be said that this is now the best possible bill because it has been agreed to by the civilians, the soldiers, sailors and airmen who will have to live under it and make it work. This is no shotgun marriage. Nor is it a marriage arranged by the fond parents who may think they know better than the bride and groom. It is no scheme which is to be imposed upon the armed forces by outside "efficiency experts" or blueprint makers. Nor is it a scheme invented by the military politicians of one branch of the armed forces.

It is the product of prolonged debate by proven military leaders. The debate has ended in an agreement. The fact that the War Department and the Navy Department, that Patterson and Forrestal, Eisenhower and Nimitz and Spaatz are agreed that this is the bill they want is a compelling reason for favoring this bill.

THERE IS NO USE passing another bill, even if some one prefers it, that they do not all agree to. For the whole object of the legislation is to increase the harmony of the various arms. The fact that they have harmonized themselves and are agreed on this bill is the best practical reason for believing that the bill will promote harmony.

The reason that they have been brought to agreement is that they succeeded in thinking out clearly what is the real issue. It is that in peace and in war the President, as Commander-in-Chief, must of necessity "unify" the armed forces. The question is not whether they shall be "unified." It is whether the President is to be enabled to know what he is doing when he acts as Commander-in-Chief.

THIS BILL is in essence a bill to make the President a more effective Commander-in-Chief. It is not a bill about how the navy, the marine corps, the air corps, the infantry, the armored divisions, the medical services, and what not, are to be composed, equipped, recruited, trained, officered, paid, fed, clothed. It is in the last analysis a bill about how the President in the White House is to make the decisions which as President and Commander-in-Chief he must make about the whole complicated business of national defence.

The bill creates a Secretary of National Defence, who is in substance the President's deputy in the whole field of military affairs. Below the deputy there are a Secretary of the Army, a Secretary of the Navy, and a Secretary of the Air Force. The President's deputy does what the President now has to do—promotes agreements and decides differences among the various branches. He gives his whole time to this task whereas the President can, of course, give only a little of his time to it. He is supposed to be a man of eminence in his own right. Probably he will be. For this particular appointment will be scrutinized very carefully by Congress, the armed forces, the veterans and the general public.

YET THE DECISIONS of the deputy are not final. The three secretaries under him, each normally the special advocate and guardian of his own service, have the right to appeal from the decisions of the deputy to the President. But in deciding the appeal the President will be, so to speak, the Supreme Court and not the court of first instance. Thus the appeals will reach him in a form where the real issues have been elucidated.

The bill does not, therefore, as some may think or fear, merge into one featureless mass all the fighting men whose traditions are distinct because they have become distinguished in glorious actions over so long a time. That kind of merger would in the name of economic efficiency destroy that military efficiency, which depends finally on the martial spirit of a fighting organization.

NOR DOES THE BILL submerge any of the branches and the specialties, each of which has, of course, its own leaders, its zealous, and even its fanatics. On the contrary, this bill is designed to enable the President to judge as wisely as systematic combined advice makes possible, how the demands of each service and branch can be balanced against the national supply of money and materials and men, and made to fit the political and strategic interests of the nation.

The President now has to make all these decisions anyway. The Constitution requires him to make them. The practical administration of government compels him to make them.

But as things are now he has no systematic and orderly way of knowing whether he has heard all the facts, has interpreted and weighed them fairly and wisely. So his decisions are spasmodic, are improvised, are casual, are guesswork and may be amateurish.

IT IS THIS weakness at the very top of the chain of command that the bill is meant to correct. It might therefore be described not as a merger, which it certainly is not, or as a unification bill, a term which begs the question, but as a bill to equip the Commander-in-Chief to do his job. ## The Old Man Pays For It, Nevertheless

Louis B. Mayer—'The Best Actor'

"THE BEST actor on the star-jammed Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot is Louis B. Mayer himself," says Thomas Heggen in the Reader's Digest for June. "He has bested most of the actors in hand-to-hand dramatics."

Robert Taylor, wanting a raise, stormed into Mayer's office. An hour later he emerged, "tears glistening in his eyes." To a secretary's question Taylor replied, "He said he wished he had a son like me." About the money, it developed, they "didn't even talk."

Greer Garson stoutly resisted when Mayer first proposed she play Mrs. Miniver. In her last three pictures she had been middle-aged; one more might make her public take it for granted. But at the end of two days, during which Mayer read the script aloud and "stood magnificently alone in the rubble of London," Garson surrendered. As she was led, overwhelmed, from his office, Mayer pressed the buzzer summoning his next caller.

With no executive title, Mayer is the acknowledged King of Hollywood, Heggen says, and was for years the highest-paid individual in America. Not only does he run his own company but he acts as "ambassador plenipotentiary of the entire industry." Visiting royalty is entertained by Mayer and introduced by him to Lana Turner. An old friend of Herbert Hoover, Mayer was once offered the ambassadorship to Turkey.

Growing up in St. John, N.B., "in conditions approximating poverty," Mayer came to the United States at 21. His first movie venture was to buy the dilapidated Gem Theatre in Haverhill, Mass., known locally as "The Germ." Mayer whitewashed the tobacco-stained interior, and gave the place an "impressive moral whitewash" by organizing an all-woman orchestra, including several Haverhill bluebirds. The Passion Play, his opening film, was a sellout.

Success of the Gem led to his purchase of a chain of New England theatres and a movie distributing company, and these, in turn, to his "march on Hollywood." With him, under contract, went Anita Stewart.

land theatres and a movie distributing company, and these, in turn, to his "march on Hollywood." With him, under contract, went Anita Stewart.

M-G-M MERGER

M-G-M was formed by Mayer's merger, in 1924, with Marcus Loew and his two producing companies, Metro and Goldwyn. One of the properties acquired from Goldwyn and produced eventually by Mayer against "a lot of sober counsel" was Ben Hur, a picture which grossed over ten million dollars.

Garbo was a muscular blonde actress in Berlin when Mayer discovered her and decided she "had something." Gable was a burly actor, previously cast only as a "heavy," when Mayer first looked at him seriously.

Politics and horses, Heggen says, are "disparate sidelines" into which Mayer's energy has overflowed. As a politician, he engineered the victory of Frank F. Merriam over Upton Sinclair for the governorship of California in 1934.

'Enterprise Scotland, 1947'

U.K. Information Office

SCOTLAND WILL HAVE its own exhibition of industrial design when "Enterprise Scotland, 1947" opens at the Royal Scottish Museum in Edinburgh on Aug. 25.

The project, sponsored by the Scottish Committee of the Council of Industrial Design and financed by the treasury, is unique in Scottish history. Its purpose is to present to the world the best in quality and design in Scottish industry, and to stimulate interest in good design on the part of Scottish firms and people in general. The time chosen is particularly appropriate, since the period coincides with the International Festival of Music and Drama, when many visitors will be coming to Edinburgh to attend this distinguished cultural event.

ALL INDUSTRIES

All Scottish industry will be represented. The principal groups, however, will be shipbuilding, textiles, printing, furniture, leather goods, sports goods, domestic appliances, scientific instruments, tools, glass and pottery. A special feature section is to be arranged by Scotland's department of health.

The exhibition will occupy about 30,000 square feet in the Royal Scottish Museum supplemented by 12 shop windows along Princess Street. The proprietors of all shops along the street have also promised their co-operation in making the display successful. The chief architect and the head designer are the men who acted in the same capacity for the "Britain Can Make It" exhibit last autumn and helped to create the settings for that colorful project.

TRADITION

There will be four sections: Scotland Yesterday, The Country, Scotland Today, and Scotland Tomorrow. The first will reveal the great tradition behind Scottish industry. The second will picture Scotland's appeal to tourists and provide settings for sports and travel goods, tartans and souvenirs. The main section, Scotland Today, will show Scottish industry in commodity and composite groups: domestic interiors, people at home, and people at work. There will be a textile hall as well as a division for craft work on display. The fourth section, Scotland Tomorrow, will make graphic the progress the country is making in such fields as planning new towns, new housing, and industrial estates.

No space will be sold to exhibitors; the items will be selected on their merit, whether or not they are available in quantity or for general sale. The test of the success of the project will therefore be not the amount realized from sales but the high quality and excellent design of the exhibits.

POISONED BEES

Recently, finding a number of dead bees outside one of my hives, I sent a sample for expert examination.

The provincial apiarist writes as follows:

"Upon examination, I have no doubt whatever that the bees died from poisoning being sprayed in the neighborhood—in all probability arsenate of lead, which is more or less sweet, and seems to attract the honey bee. We have been trying for a number of years to induce municipalities and individuals to use two ounces of crude carbolic acid to 100 gallons of spray, and when it has been used, we have had no trouble."

All bee-keepers would be truly grateful for the kind co-operation of gardeners in this matter.

As one who has to cook his own breakfast before 6.30 a.m. (No tittering please!) and run to catch the bus before the rush of the leisure class sets in, we would love to see the return of pre-sliced bread. But we hate to press the matter too hard, as prices always go up at the slightest provocation, and doubtless the bakers like everyone else already have all the provocation they can stand. Not being that kind of a provocateur, we shall drop the idea and slice our bread before going to bed.

One way to stop airplane crashes, to paraphrase the somewhat sophomoric remark of a congressional committee, is to stop flying. That, of course, is about as sensible as doing away with doctors since death is inevitable anyway. The other approach to air safety is to insure an adequate program of research on navigation aids plus enough money to equip airports with substantially more safety facilities than are now in use.

TO AN UNKNOWN CHILD

London (Ont.) Free Press

In Prague a unique memorial has been unveiled. It is inscribed "To an unknown child." The intention was to commemorate the children carelessly or deliberately done to death during the Nazi occupation of Czechoslovakia. Actually it serves as a symbol of what total war means in our world today.

The world may build again her cities. New works of art may replace the ones burned, blasted or stolen. But her dead children are a permanent loss, and the ones crippled by hunger and disease are a continuing tragedy.

That Sudden Impulse

The Times of London

Those whose onerous duty or curious pleasure it is to spend a considerable time watching films know that in many American productions there will come a moment when the hero, the heroine, or both will express a wish "to get away from it all." The circumstances from which they wish to escape normally include, however poor they are supposed to be, a luxury flat, a limousine, and wardrobes full of the most fashionable and expensive clothes, but to get away from it is their wish; where to is usually left vague and to the ingenuity of the person in charge of the incidental music. However much they may groan, however, they seldom do anything about it.

The driver of the bus who, a little time ago, forsook his accustomed route in the Bronx district of New York and set off on a journey of 1,400 miles, which ended in California, had at least the courage of his own desires.

The bus driver's escapade, since it took place in a material world, came to a prosaic end, but people of celluloid inhabit a fabulous universe, and it would be an entertaining film which saw hero and heroine for once put their words into action and get so far away from it all that they vanished for good from the screen.

Many Wartime Army Accident Deaths

Figures compiled at army headquarters and released this week reveal that for the period 1939-45, of all deaths other than actual battle casualties among Canadian army personnel, 45 per cent resulted from accidents. Motor vehicle crashes headed the accident parade with 13.9 per cent, accidental drowning resulted in 9.7 per cent and fire-arm accidents, 5.3 per cent.

Diseases of the circulatory system resulted in 13.86 per cent of all army deaths during the war years in Canada and respiratory system diseases accounted for 6.05 per cent.

The survey also reveals that over the period studied, the death rate from disease in the Canadian army in Canada was .79 per 1,000—"a very low figure."

Shipping Short For War Grave Visits

"Stay at home" is the warning given by Ottawa authorities to people planning to visit Canadian war graves in Europe.

The advice to stay at home is extended to those who are unable to book return passage. It came as a result of a number of Canadians becoming stranded overseas with no hope of returning home before Christmas, 1947. Other Canadians planning similar trips will have to postpone plans until the shipping situation improves.

Still Burdened with "GENERAL SHORTAGES"

Whew! Have we got our troubles!

That inconsiderate old codger, "General Shortages," is still riding relentlessly on the back of the telephone business—a hefty handicap to our efforts to give telephone service to all those who wish it.

Of course, as we have pointed out before, this problem of General Shortages is not peculiar to the telephone business; every business has felt it in some measure, and the public has suffered accordingly.

We are making some progress. Last year, for example, despite persistent shortages of equipment and materials, our system managed to set a new record in telephone growth. But applications are still reaching us at a record-breaking rate—and the result of our big wartime backlog, plus our unprecedented flow of new applications, is that we still have about 18,000 names on the waiting list for our whole system.

Shortages? Yes, we're still having trouble getting nearly everything needed to give service—central office equipment (switchboards and dial apparatus), cable, wire, instruments and so on.

We, like you, are looking forward to the day when we can say to General Shortages: "Get off, old man; this is the end of the line! Goodbye—and good riddance!"

In the meantime, to a long-suffering public, we say:

Thank you for your understanding and patience.

The representatives of the syndicate which proposes to erect a $4,000,000 hotel on the City Hall site if the property can be leased have received the city's counter offer on their proposal, Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the City Hall committee, revealed today.

He would not outline the exact details of the offer, but said that it was believed there would be an answer or further negotiations Monday when the committee meets with the representatives again. King Realty Ltd. are acting as Victoria agents for the Alberta and American interests involved in all negotiations.

The suggestion that Victoria's City Hall be incorporated in the proposed hotel building has been turned down by the City Council, but it is understood the new proposal is for the syndicate to lease the entire property for an unnamed sum and use it all for hotel or commercial purposes, while a new City Hall would be erected in a park area, possibly at Pandora and Blanshard Streets.

Where the City Hall offices would be located in the interim period while the new building is being erected has not been discussed in any detail.

Alignment of Front Wheels Vital Factor

It is commonsense and a safety precaution to check front-end alignment regularly.

How often have you marveled at the fingertip control, the instant response to the wheel of the modern car. How different from the drag and weight of old-type direct connection steering. This is brought about by "Knee-Action," designed to cushion road shock and absorb the wrench and strain before it reaches the driver.

Nevertheless the strain is there and in time the alignment must suffer. A hard rut or a high curb hit at coasting speed is enough to throw the adjustment out of plumb, resulting in excessive tire wear, a drag on the whole front end and loss of that smooth control so essential in these days of high speed driving.

It is an accepted fact that, for economical, efficient and safe operation, a front-end alignment check should be carried out every 10,000 miles. McLeod Lumsden Limited, 865 Yates Street, have the special equipment, the special tools and the specially trained mechanics to make the test and any necessary adjustment. Just a few dollars spent now on front-end alignment means thousands of miles added to the life of your car and tires and removal of a hazard that might well cause a serious accident.

Immigration Doors, Just Ajar, To Admit Thousands This Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's immigration doors, as yet only slightly ajar, may swing open this year for thousands of Europeans sought by labor-short specialized industries in the Dominion.

It all hinges on the problem of transportation.

A joint committee of the Labor Department and immigration branch of the resources department now has under study a "considerable number" of applications from Canadian employers seeking to bring workers from Europe to this country.

Trades and callings of the immigrants sought reflect labor shortages in Canada's primary and manufacturing trades, including textile and needleworkers, craftsmen in other trades and possibly young, unmarried women as domestic servants.

The precedent already had been set by Ludger Dionne, Liberal Member of Parliament for Beauce and Quebec textile industrialist, who is flying 100 Polish girls from Germany to work in his spinning mill at St. Georges de Beauce, Quebec.

Private shipping officials said recently no more than 25,000 immigrants would be able to reach the Dominion this year under existing arrangements. But since then arrangements have been made to use the liner Aquitania for two more runs before she leaves the Canadian schedule.

It was intimated applications stemming from primary industries, such as agriculture, lumbering and mining alone would total many thousands. In addition, thousands of applications from Canadians to bring European relatives to this country are on file.

NEW STAMP HONORS U.S. DOCTORS—Uncle Sam will pay tribute to doctors of the U.S. with the special three-cent postage stamp shown above. The special delivery size, maroon stamp reproducing Sir Luke Fildes' famous painting, "The Doctor," will go on sale at Atlantic City, N.J., on June 9.

Canadian director of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) said Wednesday night he would "protest the importing of Polish labor at minimum wage rates into Quebec and parts of Ontario" when he attends a meeting of the world Federation of Labor at Prague next month.

Mr. Burt, one of a group of Canadian labor officials who sailed for Europe Wednesday night, said he favored a program of immigration aimed at increasing the population, but it was his opinion the government should "realize that there are 158,000 unemployed in Canada."

Personal Notes

Mrs. Carl H. Friberg, Milne's Landing, Sooke, has left by plane for England on a visit.

Miss Mary Campbell, 1029 Linden Avenue, will leave Friday for Lake Louise, where she will spend the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Riva Jr., Canmore, Alta., with Mrs. W. Pike and Mrs. E. Eykebosh of Vancouver, are spending a few days with Mrs. A. Smedley, 146 Cadillac Avenue.

Included among guests at the McKay-Hooker wedding Monday were Mrs. G. Milne, Mr. and Mrs. J. Minnis, Mrs. Alfred Crossley and Mr. Bill Crossley, Nelson, B.C.; Mrs. W. Ward, Proctor, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Richardson, 114 Wildwood Street, arrived home recently after spending two weeks with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Inglis at Vernon, and a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Deane-Freeman, Vancouver.

Mrs. Frank Dudgeon will arrive in the city over the week-end from Portland, to attend the marriage of her niece, Miss Moya Porter, to Mr. Leonard Johnson, which takes place shortly. Mrs. Dudgeon will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Porter, 2806 Foul Bay Road.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Rasmussen, Green Bay, Wisconsin, are in the city to attend the wedding of the former's brother, Mr. Svend Rasmussen, Portland, Oregon, to Miss Joyce Norris, which took place Wednesday. Also attending were Miss Edna Norris, Vancouver, and Mr. J. Woods, Fanny Bay, V.I.

Members of the B.C. Electric office staff gathered Wednesday evening at the Wishbone Cafe for a no-host dinner honoring Miss Nancy Anthony and Miss Moya Porter, June brides-elect. Mrs. M. A. Foulds presented gifts of china salad bowls and servers to the honor guests who also received gardenia corsage bouquets. Covers were laid for 40.

Mrs. Charles T. Beard was a tea-hour hostess this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Sutherland-Brown, 1931 Bowker Place, in honor of her daughter, Patricia, who is to be married to Mr. Forrest Angus on Saturday. Mrs. Sutherland-Brown assisted the hostess in receiving guests and Mrs. Richard Angus and Mrs. C. J. Coultas presided at the tea table.

Mrs. J. Fletcher and Mrs. R. Willoughby entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of the later, 3136 Highview Street, with a baby shower for Mrs. James Harper. Vases of white carnations decorated the tea table which was centred with a cake trimmed in pink and yellow. Mrs. A. Chard assisted the hostesses in pouring tea. Other guests were Mesdames B. Stevens, A. Turner, M. Morfitt, L. Bartlett, L. Ward, M. Schofield, J. Lumley, V. Manson, W. Bamford, M. Nicholson, A. George, M. Hooper and Miss N. Ridgeway.

At the home of Mrs. George Cleough, Duncan, Misses Margaret Best and Margaret Gamble were hostesses, Tuesday evening, with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Norma Golding, whose marriage to Mr. Ronald Gamble takes place this week. Invited guests were Mesdames R. T. Lynn, E. Gard, M. Smith, D. Davis, G. Cleough, S. James, J. Lawless, D. Campbell, H. Harrison, A. Gamble, F. Hirst, Misses M. Langlois, L. Harrison, M. Gamble, J. Gamble, R. Campbell, B. Trueb, M. Best, P. Carr Hilton, and June Harrison.

Many Guests Attend Royal Garden Party

LONDON (AP)—The King and Queen had some folks—in fact some 5,000 folks—over for a cup of tea and a piece of cake in the backyard at Buckingham Palace yesterday. The food was delicious.

There was a creamy frosting on the cake and little sandwiches with watercress squiggling out the edges. To top it off there was ice cream, and if you didn't like tea there was orange or lemon drink.

The sun shone brightly and two bands played. The women were wearing picture hats and the men their grey toppers. All in all, it was by far the brightest social event Britain has known since before the war.

It was what they call a presentation party. Girls who have just "come out" were "presented" at court. The affair used to be vastly more formal, held indoors and at night, in the pre-war days. But old hands said the girls' knees shook as much as before.

The King wore an Admiral's uniform as he made his way through the crowds and made little jokes for the girls. The Queen was in pale blue with matching parasol. Princess Elizabeth wore pink and white, and Princess Margaret white net.

Practically everybody in De-brett's peerage was there. Long dresses and hats with ostrich feathers abounded, but one elderly guest wore a frock that barely reached the garter line. The men were permitted to wear lounge suits, but 19 out of 20 turned out in frock coat, striped pants and the works.

Proceeds will be used to aid European war orphans supported by the chapter through the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada.

Guard Of Honor For Bridal Couple

Members of the drill team of the Royal Purple, Elks Lodge, and of the A. J. Dallain Division, St. John Ambulance Brigade, formed a guard of honor as the former Miss Joyce Ivey Norris, left St. John's Church Wednesday evening following her marriage to Svend Rasmussen, Portland, Oregon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Rasmussen.

White tulle taffeta over English lace, featuring white carnations caught in flounces of taffeta in the lace skirt, formed the crinoline wedding gown, with which the bride wore a chapel veil of silk net beneath a coronet of orange blossoms. A note of importance in her ensemble was the pearl necklace belonging to her mother, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of roses and carnations.

Rev. George Biddle performed the ceremony in which the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Norris, 556 Toronto Street, was given in marriage by her father.

Crisp taffeta gowns, fashioned on crinoline lines after the bridal model, were worn by Mrs. Eric Walker, who was matron of honor for her sister, in turquoise blue; Miss Lily Wilson as bridesmaid in peach, and little Joyce Walker, niece of the bride in pastel pink. White carnation bandeaus and long white gloves were worn by all, and their bouquets were Colonial.

Dr. Hugh Clarke proposed the bridal toast at a reception at the Seamen's Institute Hall. Mrs. Norris and Mrs. F. A. Rasmussen, sister-in-law of the groom, from Green Bay, Wisconsin, assisted the bride and groom in receiving 175 guests. Assisting in serving were Misses M. Court, I. Jarvis, E. Wilson, D. Cumberbitch and A. Greenidge.

Portland will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen, following their honeymoon up-Island. The bride traveled in a gabled suit of grey with black and white accessories.

Mrs. Harris Heads Diocesan Mothers

Mrs. E. J. Harris was named president of the Diocesan Mothers' Union at the annual meeting held recently.

Other officers are honorary president, Mrs. E. E. Wootton; first vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Williams; honorary vice-president, Mrs. S. H. Brake; secretary, by acclamation, Mrs. J. Limer; treasurer, Mrs. R. T. Mackay; literature secretary, Mrs. P. Oliver; invalid prayer secretary, Mrs. H. Foster; link secretary, Mrs. E. E. Wootton; tea convener, Mrs. Lane; Local Council delegates, Mrs. D. Blyth and Mrs. P. Knowles.

The retiring president, Mrs. D. Blyth, presided at the meeting, and reports were read by secretaries of the various branches.

Netherlands West Indies Home For Norman Willis And Bride

Of far-reaching interest was the marriage May 23 at St. Andrew's Wesley Church in Vancouver when Miss Margaret Louise Forbes, daughter of Rev. H. Stewart Forbes, B.A., B.D., and Mrs. Forbes of Nelson, became the bride of Charles Norman Willis, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Willis, 426 Michigan Street, Victoria.

Following a week's honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs Mr. and Mrs. Willis will leave by plane for New York and from there by boat to Aruba in the Netherlands West Indies where the groom is associated with Standard Oil of New Jersey.

The bride, who received her B.A. at University of B.C., was given in marriage by her father who also assisted in the marriage ritual performed by Rev. D. H. Telfer, D.D.

The glow from tall white candles on baskets of white gladioli, sweet peas and roses formed a lovely setting for the bride's diaphanous frock of white nylon marquisette, piped in satin. Her full veil, slightly en train, held by white gladioli tips, misted over all. Matching blossoms surmounted her white Bible to complete the wedding ensemble.

Bridal attendants, Misses Doreen Greenhorn and Nancy Montgomery, graduated from Dean Spencer H. Elliott, guest speaker, gave an address on the work of the Mothers' Union and the sanctity of the marriage vow.

Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. L. Cantwell and her assistants.

P.-T. Council

Forty-seven delegates, representing 17 associations, were present at the regular meeting of Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council, held in the Little Centre, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. W. W. Blair presided and it was reported there was a full membership of 3,170 on the records.

Mrs. J. R. Simpson, convener, reported plans well organized for the picnic to be held at Willows Park on July 9. Meeting of the picnic committee will be held at South Park School, June 16, at 2.

It was announced that a two-day playground and community centre institute will be held in First Baptist Church, June 20 and 21, sponsored by the Recreational Council.

A letter was read from Dr. Henrietta Anderson suggesting that the council promote discussion groups. Esquimalt P.T.A. reported they had been given a grant from the Esquimalt Council to run the supervised playground in the community this year. Mr. and Mrs. S. Swetnam gave musical selections during the intermission.

Annual meeting and election of officers will be held on June 27 with J. F. K. English, senior inspector of schools, in charge. Mrs. B. D. Ashworth and Mrs. A. H. Cox, stressed the need of P.T.A. co-operation regarding the proposed school building program which is to be presented in by-law on June 19.

Club Calendar

St. Joseph's Hospital Alumnae annual meeting date changed from June 7 to June 14, at 7.30, in the Nurses' Home.

Parents' Anniversary For Wedding Date

Filmy net billowed over molded slipper satin fashioned with sweetheart neckline and full skirt which formed the bridal gown of Miss Phyllis Gwendolyn Pearson, as she entered Centennial United Church for her marriage to Wilbert Stanley Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Davis, Fullerton, Ont. The lovely bride chose for her wedding day, May 27, which marked the 22nd wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pearson, 2983 Tillicum Road.

Mr. Pearson gave his daughter in marriage in the rites performed by Rev. W. R. Ashford. A strand of pearls was her only jewelry and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas.

Bridal attendants, picturesque in their colorful gowns, were Mrs. Lawrence Orchin, matron of honor, in floral sheer, and bridesmaids, Misses Dolores Mauro in turquoise blue and Dorothy Grist in pale yellow, and Miss Shirley-Jean Murrant as junior bridesmaid in pink. All wore sequin-trimmed calots with veils and carried bouquets of pastel blossoms.

Groomsman was Ernest Wyatt and ushering guests to their seats were Lawrence Orchin and Peter McInnes.

Mauve sweet peas formed the setting for the three-tier cake topped with pink roses, at the reception held at the Kit Kat. Mrs. Pearson, and Mrs. R. Mall, mother and grandmother of the bride, assisted in welcoming guests. Toast to the bride was proposed by George Clarke.

Following their honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside in the city. The bride chose for traveling a grey pin-stripe suit with cherry-red topcoat, grey and black accessories and gardenia corsage bouquet.

Hand-Weaving School

Mrs. Mary Meigs Atwater, America's foremost authority on handweaving, who acted as instructor at the school for handweaving sponsored by Victoria Handweavers' Guild in Victoria last summer, will conduct a summer school in handweaving at University of British Columbia from June 9 to 20.

The two-week course will include special instruction for beginners, classes for experienced weavers, and classes in drafting, writing for advanced weavers. Noon hour periods will be devoted to a discussion of particular problems in weaving. There will also be classes in cardweaving, inkle loom weaving, plaiting, braiding and knotting.

Mrs. Atwater will be assisted by Mrs. W. S. Ellis and Miss Jean Travis, two experienced instructors. Miss Travis is in charge of courses in handicraft in the Department of University Extension which is sponsoring the school.

Don't let jewelry pieces jostle together in a box. Diamonds, for instance, can scratch other diamonds. Wrap individually in tissue wipers.

Life Honor For I.O.D.E. Leader

TORONTO (CP)—A life membership in Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire—highest honor the order can confer—last night was presented to Mrs. Ryland New of Oakville, Ont., as delegates attending the I.O.D.E. annual meeting here took this means of paying tribute to the woman who has headed their organization for the last three years.

More than 900 I.O.D.E. members saw the presentation during a formal dinner tendered out-of-town visitors by Toronto Municipal Chapter. This was the fourth life membership conferred during the week-long annual meeting including one to Viscountess Alexander.

The first 10 bursaries from the Second War Memorial Fund of the order will be offered in 1949, delegates decided yesterday.

Unlike the first war memorial, instead of offering nine bursaries—one for each province—the second war memorial will be set up on the basis of 10 yearly awards including one for the Yukon.

So far $397,131 of the $500,000 objective has been collected in the second war memorial campaign established to further education in Canada.

"The second memorial will be set up along the same lines as the first," said Mrs. J. D. Detwiler, London, Ont., National Educational Secretary. "There will be bursaries for the sons and daughters of Canadian men and women either killed in the war or so badly wounded that they aren't able to do the work they would have been able to do normally.

MRS. RYLAND NEW

"These bursaries are only tenable in Canadian Universities, and in order to get this part of the memorial functioning $200,000 has been set aside for these awards."

"Balance of the fund, including the sum still to be collected, will go into post-graduate scholarships at British Universities."

IF WE COULD ONLY PRESENT A REAL FORMULA ON HOW TO BE HAPPY

This is the season when so many of the boys and girls we have known and loved all their lives are altar-bound that the problem of what we shall give them for a wedding present becomes one of our major headaches. This is not because we begrudge them the price of a gift, nor because we dread the weary wanderings through the aisles of the shops trying to find something they might want, but because we do not desire to inflict an innocent young couple with a lot of junk that they will spend the next 20 years in trying to get rid of.

For well do we recall tragic displays of wedding gifts in which helpless bride couples have found themselves afflicted with 20 or 30 clocks, a forest of floor lamps, and dozens upon dozens of par-fait glasses, when their incomes would just about rate an ice cream cone.

So, remembering our own personal experience and how thankful we were when a hefty man wrecked the expensive chair that Mrs. A. gave us, and how grateful we were to Mr. X. for spilling a cup of coffee on a rug that swore at everything else that had been given us, and the despair that filled us as we looked at the ornate bric-a-brac for which we would never have any use, but which we would always have to dust, it has made us think what a pity it is that there is not some magic way by which we could present John and Mary with some of the intangible things that they will need so much in their married life.

Suppose, for instance, we could send a young husband and wife a bridal present an inexhaustible supply of love, not the flimsy, phony stuff that is already worn into tatters before the honeymoon is over, but the durable, honest, woven in the warp kind that stands the wear and tear of daily association and that lasts for a lifetime.

Suppose, instead of sending Tom and Anne a set of real lace table mats, we could bestow upon them some good, hard horse sense that would make them realize that marriage isn't a party. It is a life job at hard labor, and how their turns out is going to depend on whether they are quitters or stayers, and how much of their backs and their brains and their hearts they put into it.

Suppose, for a bridal present, we could give Fred and Sally each a pair of rose-colored glasses in which they would always see each other at their best. Fred would always be the hero of Sally's girlish dreams. She would never see that he got old and fat and stodgy, and he would still be calling her "little girl" after she was a Grandma, with grown grandchildren, and with a figure like an apple dumpling. There would be no more divorces if husbands and wives never lost their pink spectacles.

SENSE OF HUMOR

And suppose, instead of giving Alfred and Arabella a set of champagne glasses, when they had a beer income, we could present them with a sense of humor. There are so many times in married life when we have either got to laugh or cry, and it is so much better to be able to turn the misadventures of domestic life into jokes instead of fighting over them. When a wife can make a funny story about it when her husband comes home lit from a banquet, instead of preaching a sermon over it, and when a husband can bid his wife about her new hat, instead of having fits over the price, it is a certificate of happiness that they could draw money on at the bank.

Oh, there are lots of things that a bridal couple need more than they do solid silver and hand-painted dishes and monogrammed linen. What a pity we can't give it to them! It would save so many tears and heartaches and make it so much easier to stay married—and like it.

New Soapless VEL Lightens The Family Wash

by Frances Thompson
noted homemaking authority

Let's keep abreast of the times! Soapless VEL is the new, modern cleanser for use on washday. But its use must be understood to be appreciated. Letters from satisfied users are enthusiastic in praise of VEL for the family wash. One such letter says, "I poured in the VEL, put the clothes in the tub to soak as usual, and went about my other work for an hour or so, then came back all ready for a tussle with the washing. To my surprise the water was already filled with suds, and with very little elbow grease the clothes washed clean as never before!"

NO SUDS NEEDED

Because VEL is light in weight, you use less of it. For instance, if 1 cup of soap will do the job in your washing machine, use about 2 1/2 cup VEL instead. Experience will soon teach you the amount you need. Put VEL in first then add the water, which need not be hot. The foamy suds will soon subside but no matter! Unlike soap, the washing power of VEL is right there in the solution and it keeps on cleaning clothes long after the suds disappear.

NO SOAP SCUM

VEL forms no soap scum on clothes so much less rinsing is usually sufficient. Nor does it leave any hard-to-remove ring around the tub. VEL is swell when used correctly.

"VEL" is a registered trademark of the COLGATE-PALMOLIVE-PET CO. LTD.

Mrs. J. Heller Named President Of Schubert Club

The Schubert Club has elected Mrs. J. Heller president for the season 1947-48. Other officers are: Past-president, Mrs. A. H. Sheard; vice-president, Miss Mary Sinclair; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Brown; treasurer, Mrs. F. Tupman; librarian, Mrs. G. Correllus; publicity, Mrs. W. F. Holdridge.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Noel, 23 Linden Avenue. Reports of the executive showed work of the year to have been most successful. Mrs. Sheard commented on the spirit of unity among the members.

During the evening, Frederic King, conductor, was presented with a cheque and a gift for Mrs. King, who was unable to be present. He thanked the members for their loyalty and untiring efforts, also paying tribute to the musical ability of the accompanist, Mrs. Darvill. Presentations were also made to the retiring president and accompanist.

The next recital will be given at the High School on July 16, sponsored by the Summer School of Education.

Council Cancels Athletic Permit

The permit granting permission to the athletic division of the British Columbia Electric Railway to play softball in Windsor Park on Sunday was canceled by the Oak Bay Council as the result of protests received from two residents of the locality. The permit was granted by the council last week on condition that no protests were made in this respect.

One resident in a letter not only objected to the playing of softball, but vented her feelings against children playing in the park. "Councilor P. A. Moir contends that it is far better to have children playing in parks on Sundays than not to know where they are," she wrote. "I can tell him where they should be—at home disturbing their own parents."

The other objection was just as emphatic: "If parents of the children who intend using the park have no regard for the observance of Sunday that is their affair, provided they do not interfere with the rights of those who have." The letter added: "As we are forced to remain indoors many summer evenings because of the uproar caused by these children, surely it is not being selfish to consider that the older people who pay taxes, have the right of one day of quietness during which they may enjoy their own gardens."

The council made no comment on the letters, although the athletic organization has been refused the use of the park, there is nothing to prevent children from playing on the premises on Sundays or week days.

WILD TURKEYS FIGHT AND STRUT IN SPRINGTIME

A turkey has a right to be called a "redhead." It has reddish, wrinkled skin over much of the head, and is decorated with large red wattles.

A foreign country gives its name to the turkey, but this bird is a native of the New World. Turkeys are, indeed, the only barnyard fowls which the New World supplied to the human race.

The first raising of turkeys in Europe seems to have started about the year 1530. Scholars are in doubt as to how the name happened to come into use. Some believe that Turkey obtained a number of the fowls, and sent them to western Europe in the course of trade. In any case the Turks knew nothing about turkeys until after the New World was discovered.

When white settlers reached North America, they found that the woods contained thousands of wild turkeys. New England and southern Canada had them, and they were common southward through forests and woodlands to Florida and Texas.

To this day there are wild turkeys in various parts of the United States, chiefly south of the Ohio river. Laws have helped to guard them from being wiped out. Mexico and Central America have a great number of them.

Wild turkeys commonly roost in trees, but the hens put their nests on the ground. A hollow is scratched in the ground, behind a log or under a bush. This hollow is lined with dead leaves or a bit of dry grass.

From eight to 15 eggs are laid in the nest of a wild turkey hen. The hen sits on the nest and takes good care of the young ones until they are able to fly.

Wild turkeys can fly fairly well, but they spend most of their food-hunting time on the ground. They eat acorns and chestnuts, also berries, seeds and insects.

In the spring the wild turkey cocks do a great deal of fighting. The purpose of the fighting is to win the favor of the hens. The turkey cocks strut about, fanning out their tails.

Most wild turkeys have a weight of from 10 to 20 pounds, but some weigh 30 pounds or more. One is reported to have weighed 40 pounds.

Wins English Honors

John Glyn Darling, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Darling, 6 Sylvan Lane, was awarded first-class honors in English literature and language at the recent convocation of the University of B.C. He attended Oak Bay High School and was a student at Victoria College from 1942 to 1944. During his second year he was winner of the Royal Institute and Frank Eaton Memorial Scholarship of $30 for excellence in English. A brother, Rodney, is attending the California Institute of Technology.

Heads Party Executive

EMANUEL SHINWELL, MARGATE, Eng. (Reuter)—Fuel Minister Emanuel Shinwell Wednesday was elected chairman of the executive of the British Labor Party, and James Griffiths, Minister of National Insurance, became vice-chairman.

Shinwell, succeeded Air Secretary Philip Noel-Baker, who stayed out of the limelight. Observers predicted the fuel minister may prove as much of a stormy petrel in the chairmanship as did Prof. Harold Laski in 1945, Britain's last election year.

The DOCTOR

Says:

TOBACCO CAUSES VARIOUS EFFECTS

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

The effect of tobacco varies in different persons and in the same individual from time to time. Most tobacco users recall the time when they were learning to smoke and how sick it made them. Experienced smokers occasionally complain of similar upsets.

Chronic effects of tobacco are known, but there is a difference of opinion as to their significance. Of all the systems in the body, the circulatory system seems to be affected most. The respiratory, nervous, and digestive systems also are affected.

There is a sharp drop in the temperature of the fingers and toes after using tobacco. This is caused by nervous constriction of the arteries as heat loss to the outside is regulated by the amount of blood which flows through the skin.

Harmful effects from tobacco in the coronary circulation, blood flow through the muscle of the heart, have been reported. If the records of young victims of coronary heart disease are analyzed, it is found that the majority are heavy smokers. The large number of fatal cases of this malady in young men would suggest that excessive use of tobacco may be a factor. Another possibility is that the same nervousness which drives them on causes them to seek relief from tension through the use of tobacco.

Arteries and veins of the arms and legs of persons susceptible to tobacco may develop Buerger's disease. This disorder is more common in nervous individuals who use tobacco to excess.

In normal persons, the effect of tobacco upon the circulation is first a slowing up and then an increase in the pulse rate and a rise in blood pressure. This effect is noted in both chronic and occasional users.

Tobacco is a case of "one man's meat becoming another man's poison." Some persons can use it throughout their lifetime without permanent harmful effects, while others definitely are harmed by it.

Anscomb Says B.C. Must Take Stock Of Changing World

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb told British Columbians Wednesday night the time had come when the province must take stock of its position in view of changing world conditions.

"As the time approaches when we have again to face world competition, we must re-orient ourselves to meet that change, no matter if it is difficult so to do. If we do not, we will not survive," he said, noting that the province secures almost its entire livelihood by the export of its natural resources in competition with the world.

Speaking over CBC provincial stations in one of a series of broadcasts by provincial political leaders, Mr. Anscomb referred to rumors that the Coalition administration was about to be dissolved.

He said he wanted to make it clear that the Coalition government would not be dissolved "by any action of myself, representing the Conservative party, which is one of the partners to it, so long as the obligations and responsibilities of the partnership are recognized, understood and accepted by the members of the two parties that constitute it."

"Neither has there been the slightest indication that either party to the Coalition that such was their intention," he continued. "I am convinced, also, realizing as I do the earnestness of all members to it, that no such idea has ever been present in the minds of any of its members, whose sole thought is the welfare of the province and an earnest desire to save our people from the Communist evil that is so apparent both from within and without the province."

Admitting the result of the Cameron report on education finance had not been satisfactory to many taxpayers in unorganized districts, Mr. Anscomb warned "it should be remembered, however, before anybody takes too violent a dislike to the effect of that report, that it was also recommended by the commissioner that there should be an equalization assessment board established to try to equalize the tax burden imposed on the taxpayers throughout the province."

He said the board would be set up very shortly, but added that its work would be difficult.

"I mention this specifically tonight," he said, "so that those people who feel that they have been unduly burdened, or have a grievance, may realize that the government understands the situation and that a remedy from an equalization viewpoint is provided, but cannot, as I say, yet be effected, until the committee I refer to has completed their work."

He said it was perhaps not generally understood that the provincial government was paying nearly $1,000,000 a month toward the cost of education. Mr. Anscomb also reviewed problems of old-age pension payments, and other social security measures adopted by the government, and went on to describe the problems of improving the province's road system.

Although the appropriations for roads this year were the largest in the history of the province, Mr. Anscomb said: "To be perfectly frank, I do not think that all this is going to put our roads in shape that everybody, including myself, thinks they should be, but it is as much as we can do out of the revenues that we have, after providing for all the social services that must be taken care of. I think, also, that it is all we can spend during the present year because of lack of men and machines to do the work."

Early Bird Gets The Milk

Big thief and little thief squabble over who gets first drink. Big one usually wins and is the first to puncture a hole in the bottle cap with his powerful beak.

The great mystery of LeWes, England, has been solved. Milk had been pilfered daily from bottles on doorsteps. Birds were the culprits. A camera-sleuth made this evidence.

After big fellow drinks his fill, smaller one dislodges cap, pecks cream from underside and ...

... takes a drink. Sometimes small birds get too greedy, fall in and drown.

Los Angeles Back On Top In Bitter Coast League Race

The topsy-turvy race for the Coast League baseball lead found Los Angeles on top today, for the moment, anyway.

San Francisco looked over its shoulder and discovered Oakland perched alongside in a tie for second place with the Seals, one game behind Los Angeles.

Anything can happen tonight, however, if the Angels beat San Francisco again and Oakland also wins, then the Angels would keep the lead and the Oaks take second, dropping the Seals to third. But if San Francisco beats Los Angeles, and Oakland wins, there'd be a three-way deadlock.

Last night the Angel's Cliff Chambers allowed seven hits to beat the Seals' Bob Chesnes, who gave up 10 bingles, in a battle between the league's top pitchers. Los Angeles' 5 to 4 victory could be credited largely to homers by Cece Garriott and Larry Barton.

Oakland won a home run binge from Hollywood, 13 to 9, to catch up with San Francisco.

Heavy hitting featured the other games as Portland beat Seattle, 11 to 4, and Sacramento took San Diego, 9 to 4.

Legion Show Form In Beating United

It will be Canadian Legion vs. Nanaimo in the island final of the Province Cup soccer series at Macdonald Park Saturday night, starting at 6.15. Legion pulled the surprise of the season last night by nosing out the Coast League Victoria United 3 to 2 in the local final. There was nothing lucky about the Legion triumph, the club winning on its merits.

After holding a 1 to 0 lead at half-time and having the score deadlocked in the early minutes of the second half the Legion stormed back for two quick goals before the United were again able to find the net. Legion displayed much better team work and what little good soccer was seen during the 90 minutes the winners played it. United players, with few exceptions, seldom untracked themselves all night. Their half line had trouble clearing, with Joe Travis and Red McMillan in the wing positions being far below their usual form. Until Tommy Druce and Alan Reside, the two fullbacks, moved up late in the game the United forward line showed a complete lack of punch and cohesion.

Outstanding for the Legion were the youthful Sid Robbins at centre-half, Hugh Haggie at one of the wing half berths and Cliff Robbins and Andy Anderson on the front line. The entire Legion club played hard from veteran goalie Louis DeCosta out.

With five minutes of play remaining in the first half the Legion opened the scoring, Anderson picking the corner during a scramble in the United goal. Goalie Moss got his hands on the ball but it was curving away from him. Minutes later Pickup hit the crossbar as the Legion continued to press. United's best chance to score came when right-winger Shubrooke was in on DeCosta by himself only to have the goalie smother his shot.

Second half was minutes old when United tied the score on a penalty awarded against Sid Robbins for climbing over Chuck Restall. Eddie DeCosta picked the corner with a low shot. Undaunted the Legion forged back on the offensive and regained the lead on a penalty given against McMillan for double blocking. Cliff Robbins fired the goal. Shortly after the same player scored the best goal of the match, heading in a perfect cross by Anderson from a corner kick. Two goals down the United moved Druce and Reside up and the change paid off when the former took Reside's goalmouth job and headed it past DeCosta for the final goal of the match. United pressed in the dying minutes but were unable to get back on even terms.

Pipette Sells For $38,000 At Auction

NEW YORK (AP)—Pipette, one of 1946's leading two-year-old fillies who won five races and $60,660 last season, was sold today for $38,000, top price of an auction of horses at Belmont Park.

The brown filly was brought from the estate of the late W. H. Laboyteaux, insurance executive, by trainer Preston Burch.

Altogether, 31 horses were sold at the auction for an average price of $3,532.

MAURIELLO WINS
BROOKLYN (AP)—Tami Mauriello, rotund tavern-keeper from the Bronx, had to go all out Wednesday night to stop Jimmy Carollo, young Long Island thumper, in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round bout. Mauriello weighed 203½, Carollo 198½.

Doc Cramer Proves Deadly Clutch Hitter For Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A graying 41-year-old outfield veteran of 19 seasons in the American League, the ever-young Roger (Doc) Cramer, is the hittingest guy with the league-leading Detroit Tigers today, although he hasn't once trotted out to the centre field position he handled regularly for Detroit's world champions of 1945.

The Tigers have played 35 games to date and the amazing Cramer has been in 12 of them—strictly as a pinch-hitter.

Not once has Doc handled a chance in the field, but he's making real hay with his chances at the plate, banging out six hits—all of them singles—in 11 times at bat for a "clutch" hitting average of .545.

Every time Cramer steps to the plate the pressure is on, but there's no choking up for a fellow who has played with four American League clubs since he broke into the majors in 1929, when some of his current Detroit teammates were two years old.

His payoff punch as part-time hitter has delivered seven important Tiger runs across the plate this season, sufficient evidence that his pinch licks are coming at opportune times.

Ontario Betting Handle Shows Drop

TORONTO (CP)—Although the largest crowd ever to witness a sporting event in the Dominion—about 50,000 persons—bet more than $700,000 at Woodbine Park on King's Plate day last Saturday, mutual play has plummeted in Ontario so far this year. Officials of the Ontario Jockey Club revealed Wednesday that over the seven days of their meeting there was a decline of $320,000 in betting over the corresponding seven days of the spring of 1946.

Thorncliffe Park showed a decline of about $86,000 Monday as against the same Monday a year ago.

Hall Hits Four-Run Homer To Give Esquimalt Victory

It is becoming extremely difficult for other teams in the senior A softball league to halt the home run power of Esquimalt Meat Market. This was demonstrated again last night when Leon Hall slapped a four-run homer in the seventh inning to break a 4 to 4 deadlock and give the Meat Market nine an 8 to 5 victory over second place Brentwood.

Douglas Tire had a field day at the expense of Blue Bird Cabs in the other encounter slamming out 19 hits for a 12 to 0 victory.

Hall's big payoff blow was the highlight of the Esquimalt win as the teams had played on even terms for the first six innings with Aces taking an early lead only to see Esquimalt tie it up in the fifth with an extra base blow by Dale. Brentwood tallied its final run in the ninth.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

AFTER having watched Victoria Athletics' star sillysder, Bill Woop, work in several games this season and sweated along with him as he ran into streaks of wildness, one is reminded of the ditty Leo Lassen coined to fit the mound performances of Dick Barrett of the Seattle Rainiers. I feel it fits Woop perfectly so will pass it along:

"Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Woop's pitching,
The count's 3 and 2."

IN ANSWER to a number of queries on just how batting, fielding and pitching averages are computed I trust that the following explanations will aid the baseball public in their problems. To find the batting average of a team or player—divide the number of base hits by the total number of times at bat. Remember, however, that a player is not charged with an official time at bat if he reaches first on a base on balls, a sacrifice hit, on interference by the catcher or is hit by the pitcher. To compute fielding averages—divide the number of chances accepted, i.e., the total putouts and assists, by the number of chances offered, i.e., the total putouts, assists and errors. Team marks are computed in the same method.

EARNED RUN averages of pitchers are compiled by multiplying the number of earned runs scored on that pitcher by nine, and dividing the result by the number of innings pitched. Pitcher's won and lost percentages are computed in the same way as batters averages, i.e., divide their won and lost total into the number of games won. This holds true in figuring a team's won and lost percentage as well. Rather puzzling is the subject of "games behind the leader." First take the league-leading team's won and lost record—for example—25 and 10. Then take the second-place team's record of 19 and 12. The top-place team has won six more and lost two less than the second team. Add these results together and divide by two. Result is that the second-place team is four games behind.

ALTHOUGH percentages do not prove this method of computing the result is right when comparing the number of games each team has played. For example, if in the above case the second-place team won their next four games while the leaders dropped four, standings would show 25 and 14 and 23 and 12. When this is the case the difference between the won and lost columns in each instance is 11 games but the team with the least number of games played would be in the league lead because of the higher percentage.

IN SHORT always subtract the second-place team's games won from the leader's and the leader's games lost from the second-place team's, add and divide by two. If, as in the above example, the records show 23 and 12 and 25 and 14, subtract 25 from 23 which leaves minus two; subtract 12 from 14 leaving plus two. The result is that the second team is no games behind the leader.

Accidental Death Verdict In Delivery Truck Fatality

A verdict of accidental death was returned, after five minutes deliberation, by a coroner's jury, which met this morning in Sands Mortuary Ltd., to investigate the death of Gordon Fern Fullerton, 27, who died in the Royal Jubilee Hospital at 4.10 on the morning of May 27 from injuries he received the previous evening when a light delivery truck which he was driving sideswiped a telephone pole on Admiral's Road, just north of the entrance to H.M.C.S. Naden.

Desmond McGimpsey, who was a passenger in the truck, said: "Fullerton was driving. When they were going along Admirals Road, Fullerton was talking to Roy Wilson, another passenger. Fullerton was looking at Wilson and not watching where he was driving."

"I suddenly saw the telephone pole right in front of us when we were only 15 feet away from it. I yelled and pulled at the wheel to try and avoid hitting it. I don't think Gordon saw the pole at all," McGimpsey said.

The witness said the next thing he remembered, he was lying on the road. "I got up and found Fullerton on the grass with his feet still on the running board of the truck. I went over and held his head. He was not bleeding but he was having a hard time breathing."

McGimpsey said a naval doctor had appeared at the scene and had examined Fullerton. The Spanish police ambulance took the injured man to hospital. "I was not hurt very much but Wilson was badly cut."

"We were not drunk—we had not had enough to make us drunk," McGimpsey said.

Chief of Police Gilbert Stancombe of Esquimalt gave measurements of the scene. He said the road was straight and was 18 feet wide at this point. The roads at the time were dry. It was a clear evening.

He said he had found no indications that the car had been traveling at any great speed. "However," he said, "the car was on the wrong side of the road and it must have been carelessly driven."

Texan Fined For Dangerous Driving

Edward J. Callery, formerly of Houston, Texas, learned in city police court today that traffic regulations of the Texas city, which has buses for transportation, do not apply in the case of Victoria's streetcars. He was fined $25 for dangerous driving.

He was charged by city police for passing a streetcar on the left side on Yates Street at Government Street at the busy hour at 5 in the afternoon, but told the court he was not aware he was breaking the law until accosted by the police.

In Houston, he said, buses handled the traveling public and he had always passed them on the left side and thought the practice the same here in regard to streetcars. Accused had only recently come to Victoria, he said.

Magistrate H. C. Hall had no sympathy for the fact the driver was not acquainted with Victoria regulations, pointing out that the defendant should have undertaken to acquaint himself with the rules covering traffic in this city.

He was also fined $5 for not having an existing driver's license.

Air Vice-Marshal To Visit Station At Patricia Bay

Air Vice-Marshal K. F. Guthrie, on a tour of inspection of North Western Air Command, will arrive at R.C.A.F. station, Patricia Bay, at 10 Friday morning.

A guard of honor will be on hand on the parade square at Patricia Bay to welcome the visiting air-marshal. He will be accompanied by Air Commodore J. L. Plant, Group Capt. F. C. Carling-Kelly, Group Capt. F. A. Sampson, Group Capt. E. A. McNab, Wing-Comdr. G. J. H. Cartwright, Wing-Comdr. D. G. Price, Sqdn-Ldr. H. V. Peterson.

The air-marshal will leave the airport at 10.15 for Government House, where he will meet the Lieutenant-Governor Banks. He will return to Patricia Bay at 2, where an inspection and ceremonial parade will be held. The Northwest Air Command Band will be present.

Today the Air-Marshal presented decorations ranging from Member of the British Empire to the Canadian Efficiency decoration to 48 B.C. men at an investiture ceremony held at Jericho Beach.

Flt-Lt. I. E. McPherson and F.O. W. Boyes, both of Victoria, Flt-Lt. J. L. Gourley, Ladysmith, and F.O. Walter L. Nesbitt, Qualicum Beach, were awarded the distinguished flying cross.

Flt-Lt. Lionel Beevor-Potts, Nanaimo, received the M.B.E. The distinguished flying medal was awarded to WO2. A. B. Carlson, Victoria, and L.A. Robert O. Hunter, R.C.A.F. Station, Patricia Bay.

Pioneer Victoria Resident Dies At 73

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3 at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, for Robert Hutchison, 73, of 546 Ellice Street, resident of Victoria since 1889, and pioneer of many new advances of the Island, who died Wednesday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Rev. T. H. McAllister will conduct services and burial will be at Ross Bay Cemetery.

With his eldest brother, Mr. Hutchison, a native of England, founded the Consolidated Electric Light Co., said to be Canada's first Edison commercial plant. He was credited with the first X-ray on "shadowgraph" experiments on the island, with exposures of half an hour necessary.

Other firsts credited to Mr. Hutchison were: Installation of the first X-ray machine here and in other island and mainland hospitals, shortly after their invention; first successful experiments in radio transmission and reception in Victoria; first demonstrations of motion pictures or Edison Magniscope here and in New Westminster, Kaslo, Kamloops, Rossland and Nelson; installation of the first illuminated fountain in front of the legislative buildings.

He founded Hutchison Brothers & Co. Ltd., which manufactured engines for boats which set Canadian speed records. After being in business for himself he was employed at H.M.C. Dockyard as an electrical operator, which position he held until his retirement last October. He taught electrical engineering to night school classes for many years.

Surviving are one son, Robert; four daughters, Mrs. W. London, Los Angeles; Mrs. C. Chandler and Mrs. R. Attwood, Victoria; Mrs. W. Pollock, Port Alberni, and one brother, T. T. Hutchison, Cordova Bay, and two sisters, Mrs. W. Boyd of Quesnel, and Mrs. W. Cook, Saskatchewan.

The present case of infection has, and the source of infection has not been found yet. She is not in serious condition, and had not been immunized. All contacts are also adults, Dr. Anderson said, and are being carefully checked.

Dr. Anderson said that childhood immunizations last approximately five years, and then the child should be given a booster shot. In the case of adults coming in for immunizations, they must be given sensitivity tests first, he said.

Building permits have been issued to C. Martin to build a five-room house on Fifth Street costing $5,400; and to H. Taylor to build a four-room house at 1568 Westall Avenue, $3,000.

Food Most Acute Problem In Great Britain Today

Visiting Victoria today is jovial Sir Cyril Jones, C.B.E., former president of the British Food Manufacturers' Federation and a member of the Federation of British Industries, who has just arrived from an extended visit to Australia and India, where he studied food conditions in both countries in an unofficial capacity.

Sir Cyril, one of Britain's experts on manufactured food, said food was the most acute problem in Britain. He said both India and Australia were also faced with a serious problem with regard to "manufactured" foods.

Australia is short of labor, while India is short of materials, he said. "The lack of adequate transportation facilities and labor strikes in both countries have not helped to ease the situation."

Although Britain was getting out of India, he said, her commercial interests in that country would remain unchanged as India was in need of good "business management." "The need for British commerce is greater than ever before," he added.

Sir Cyril said India did not need money but business management and he expressed the

Require Medicals On School Entrance

Children who are to enter school, either as beginners or pre-primary students, are to be examined by school doctors and dentist during June, John Gough, municipal inspector of schools, announced today.

Information as to the medical examination centres in all four municipalities within the district can be obtained by parents, when they register their children June 2 to 6.

All schools in the area will be open for registrations between 3 and 4 p.m. and parents should register at the nearest school, he said.

To be eligible for Grade 1 a child must be six years of age before Dec. 31 of this year, and to be eligible for pre-primary be five years of age before that date. Proof of age will be required.

K. of P. Contest Finals Saturday

Frank Paulding, W. E. Ireland and Dr. Henrietta Anderson will judge the finals of the Knights of Pythias public speaking contest to be held here Saturday night at 8 in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Contestants are: Tom Bulman, Vernon; Vernon Reynolds, Portland, Ore.; Jan Rathbun, Lewiston, Idaho; and Don Haven, Seattle, Wash.

Ray Toplis of Victoria, grand chancellor for B.C., has been in charge of arrangements. Ray Gleason of Portland, district deputy supreme chancellor, who is public speaking chairman for the Pacific northwest, will be a visitor at Saturday night's contest.

In the annual parish show of the Spanish Cattle Club, the winner of the grand champion cow was Brookdale Lord's Lassie, owned by Harold Brooks. The ribbon and the Scott and Peden Cup went with the award. Lassie was also named as senior champion and winner of the R.O.P. class.

Princeton, and Grand Forks Volunteer Fire Department Benevolent Society, Grand Forks, were registered under the Societies Act.

Y.M.C.A. Officials To Attend A.O.S. And A.O.P. Meeting

Victoria Y.M.C.A. officials, Arnold Ramer, Bob Morrison, Archie McKinnon and Ray Newman will attend the meeting of the B.C. section of the Y.M.C.A. association of secretaries and office personnel at Camp Elphinstone, Vancouver, on Saturday and Sunday it was announced today.

Purpose of the two-day meeting is to foster closer working relationships between American and Canadian Y.M.C.A.s and especially between the eastern and western association in Canada. The possibility of inter-city associational visits increased and co-operation between branches will also be discussed.

Guests who will attend the meeting include A. N. Harding of the national council staff, James E. Maxwell, executive secretary of the P.N.W. area, and Ray Wilder, president of P.N.W. A.O.S.

A. and N. Veterans Banquet At Empress

Veterans young and old who fought in World War I and II, and old-timers who took part in Imperial campaigns of many years ago, attended the annual banquet of the Victoria Branch of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada held at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

The event was one of the largest veterans' banquets held in this city, with more than 500 members present. President Tom Wheadon acted as chairman and introduced the speakers invited for the occasion.

Ald. F. G. Mulliner, who brought the greetings of the City Council and stressed the importance of maintaining veteran organizations.

Capt. W. B. Creery, representing the navy, urged veterans to remain united. Lt. Col. R. D. Travis, officer commanding the First Battalion, the Canadian Scottish, appealed for recruits for the Reserve Army.

Another speaker was S. J. Mayzes, president of the British Columbia Branch of the Canadian Legion. He congratulated the branch on carrying out more than a century of good work.

Entertainment was provided after the banquet. The entertainers included Boyd McGill, Fred Usher and Ernie Fullerton of the Home-Towners; George Farmer, Tom Glendenning, Tom Crabbe, Joe Dobbie, Joe Leatham, Bill Harkness.

Tom Obee directed the variety show, while T. Wheadon acted as master of ceremonies. Accompanying on the piano was Cecil Boulter, and on the violin, Bill Anderson.

Charged With Theft From Motor Firm

Frank James Brown, 31, of Vancouver, appeared in city police court this morning charged with breaking and entering McLeod-Lumsden Motors Ltd., 865 Yates Street, on Wednesday morning and stealing an Electro-Vac cleaning unit. He asked for trial in a high court and was remanded to tomorrow by Magistrate H. C. Hall for his preliminary hearing.

Accused asked for bail and the magistrate set it at $3,000 in two sureties.

Brown was arrested by Constables John Mason and A. J. Wilson sitting in an automobile on the use car lot of the firm yesterday morning.

Officers Named By Typographical Union

At the May meeting of the Victoria Typographical Union No. 201, V. J. Baines was again elected by acclamation as president for the year 1947-48. Other officers receiving acclamation were J. D. Chapman, vice-president, and H. Warren, secretary-treasurer. The executive committee comprises: W. O. Clunk, J. F. Hough, T. McDonald and W. Richardson. Delegates to the Victoria Trades and Labor Council are V. J. Baines, J. D. Chapman and W. O. Clunk. L. P. Johnston represents the union on the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Gas Sales To Resellers Up 12% In Victoria

A 12.11 per cent increase in the amount of gasoline supplied resellers during March of this year over March, 1946, was reported today by the Coal and Petroleum Control Board for the Victoria area.

In Vancouver the increase was 10.84 per cent, while in the remainder of the province the increase was reported as 47.55 per

Tug Due Here Saturday After Battling Violent Pacific Gale

The Victoria tug Island Navigator which ran into a violent storm off the southern coast of Oregon and lost its tow of three scows, has left the port of Eureka, Calif., and is on its way to Victoria, officials of the Island Tug and Barge Ltd. announced today.

The powerful Diesel tug, manned by a Victoria crew, is expected in Victoria Saturday.

The three scows, which went adrift 70 miles out to sea, were all recovered by the tug which towed them to Eureka for reconditioning. The tug is now towing one scow to Victoria, while the others are being pumped out.

St. Lawrence Seaway Helpful To Defence, U.S. Senate Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — War Under-Secretary Kenneth F. Royall said today the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway would give easy access to possible bases in Newfoundland and Greenland and reduce the submarine hazard in case of war.

The U.S. army's position, he told a Senate foreign relations sub-committee considering the project, is that it is "not vital to national defence" but would be "helpful to national defence."

He said points in favor of the half billion-dollar development with Canada include:

1. It would provide a large additional source of electric power in the Great Lakes and adjacent regions.

2. This would "tend to increase the United States' overall industrial potential" and "it is perfectly possible that we would need this potential in another all-out conflict."

3. As a route to Europe it would be "1,200 miles less ocean distance, thereby minimizing to some extent the risk and danger of submarine and other attacks."

Music Federation Plans Convention

Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Association will hold a biennial convention in July, 1948 at Banff, Alberta, according to announcement of officials.

Summer school buildings at the University of Alberta have been offered to accommodate the convention. The federation has received two thousand copies of a catalogue of music by Canadian composers, the first of its kind to be compiled. The federation has been instrumental in distributing them to many parts of the world.

Concludes Tonight

Frank Drake Davidson, North Bend, Wis., lecturer and philosopher, today addressed delegates attending the 15th annual convention of the Mayflower Warehousemen's Association at the Empress Hotel. The guest speaker spoke on "Astrology and Soothsayers."

The convention will wind up tonight with the association's annual banquet and dance. Mayor Percy George, members of the Chamber of Commerce, and local entertainers have been invited to the event which will begin at 7.

Town Topics

Joe Kazsik, Hungarian, to whom Victorians sent a parcel of clothing, after he had made a personal appeal to M. F. Hunter, city clerk, received the parcel safely. Mr. Hunter learned today, "I am happy," he said, in the letter. "I wish you always the happiness as I had when I got that parcel."

Rev. Arthur Dobson, who has recently returned to Canada on furlough from his work as United Church missionary in Central India, will give a lecture, illustrated by color kodachrome movies, in Metropolitan United Church next Monday at 8.15. During the war Mr. Dobson served as padre with the British forces in their advance down the Burma coast, as far as the occupation of Rangoon. His story is one of service and of vital interest at this time.

A full program has been arranged for members of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team during their stay in Portland to take part in that city's annual rose festival. The girls will perform at 21 functions. As well as their displays of precision drill, the schedule calls for the team, also trained as a glee club, to present a 15-minute broadcast from radio station KOIN, at 6, June 12. The team will leave Victoria June 9, will arrive in Portland on June 10 and will remain until June 15. Norman Foster, director and trainer of the team announced,

Iran News Agency Cancels U.P. Pact, U.S. Senate Told

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda quoted the Iranian Ambassador to the Soviet Union today as saying that a news agreement between the United Press and the Iranian news agency, Pars, had been canceled because of "incorrect information spread by the United Press correspondent in Tehran."

(United Press headquarters in New York said it had no immediate comment.)

A letter to the editor of the Communist Party organ over the signature of Ambassador Prince Mozaffar Firooz said:

City detectives are investigating entry of Arnold's Bakery, 1513 Douglas Street. While nothing is reported missing, the floor was blood-stained, believed to have been the result of a cut sustained when glass in the front door was broken with a bottle to gain entry.

Gallup Poll

Conservatives Regaining Popular Vote In Britain

From BRITISH INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

Herbert Morrison has warned British Labor Party "rebel" elements at the annual conference at Margate that even a moderate shifting of public opinion away from Labor could lose the Party next election.

The warning echoes evidence of a steady decline in popular support of Labor and a substantial rise in popularity of the Conservative Party.

The changed political situation in Britain is seen in the following polls by the British Institute of Public Opinion showing the trend since the 1945 general election.

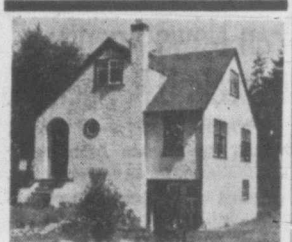

"If an election were held today, how would you vote?"

	1946	May	Jan.	Today
Conservative	45%	45%	44%	44%
Labour	45%	45%	44%	44%
Other	10%	10%	12%	12%

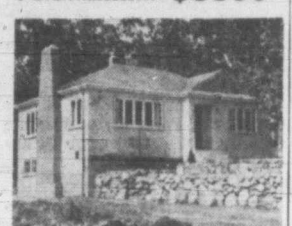

In the latest survey a total of 13 per cent expressed no choice. Other British Gallup Poll surveys reveal that the source of dissatisfaction with the Labor government lies in largely domestic conditions, particularly relative to fuel, food and housing.

While the "rebel" elements within the Labor Party direct most criticism at the foreign policy of their leaders, the voting public in Britain has given majority approval, in recent Gallup polls, to Ernest Bevin's handling of foreign affairs.

Residents Protest

A petition protesting against the zoning of 1538 Beach Drive for the erection of a hotel was tabled for further consideration at a special meeting of the Oak Bay Council Wednesday. The council decided to hear the case of C. E. Moore of Winnipeg, who is requesting permission to establish a hotel in the area, before making a decision on the matter.

The petition, signed by more than 23 residents in the immediate locality objects to the erection of a hotel on the grounds that it would be "a very serious detriment to the amenities of the surroundings" and would also seriously depreciate the values of their properties.

The petitioners also contend that the hotel's back premises would be unsightly, however great an effort was made to keep it tidy and clean, and that there would be a procession of trade vehicles which would interfere with the safety and enjoyment of those living in the vicinity.

This New Army: Hospital Cot Beds, Sheets, Pillow Slips, Bed Lamp, Too

It is a far cry from straw-filled palliases and iron slatted beds to hospital cots, mattresses and clean, white sheets—but just such a transition has taken place in Canada's new army of the postwar period.

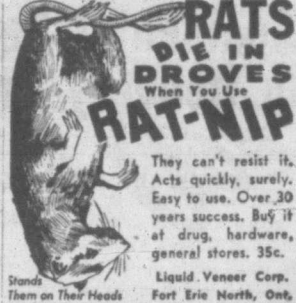

It was learned in Ottawa this week that the issue of "accommodation stores" for other ranks living in barracks has been approved, and as one "old sweat" puts it: "It looks like the army is determined to kill 'em with comfort if not with kindness."

The new scale issue includes folding, hospital-type beds complete with mattress, sheets and pillow slip, a bed lamp—and, for every two men, a chest of drawers and a mirror.

Incidentally, it is not known yet if the sergeant-major will tuck the boys in bed at night. But, when the wartime and pre-war lads in khaki look back over it all, they have to admit the post-war look of things is a nice set-up.

Oculist, Optometrist

The difference between an oculist and an optometrist is that an oculist is a physician who specializes in the treatment of defects and diseases of the eye, while the optometrist makes a scientific examination of the eye for the purpose of prescribing glasses.

Few Changes In Income, Profits Taxes As House Debates Budget

OTTAWA (CP)—Budget proposals for changes in excise, excess profits and income taxes came under the sharp eye of the Commons Wednesday, but went through preliminary stages of Parliamentary approval with little alteration.

The work was done in committee of ways and means, which permits brisk question-and-answer examination of the minister, and the chamber approved resolutions dealing with excise levies and excess profits tax.

The House bogged down later, however, when it came to the proposed changes in income tax regulations and opposition speakers held the floor in the evening sitting.

Golden Good Eating
for two generations

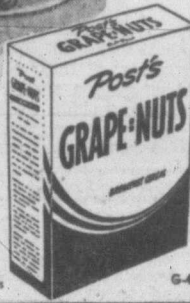

Main Street, Winnipeg, about 1897 — that's when Grape-Nuts was born!

THAT'S what Grape-Nuts has meant! Grand-tasting, nourishing breakfasts — so easy to serve, so good for you.

The secret is that double-baked goodness of two fine grains — golden Canadian wheat and malted barley. Double-baking means unique flavor, easy digestibility. Two grains mean good nourishment — carbohydrates for energy, phosphorus for bones and teeth, iron for the blood, protein for muscles!

And Grape-Nuts is really economical. 14 to 16 servings in the new, red-white-and-blue Grape-Nuts package. Get some from your grocer. Try them tomorrow!

Snow Delays Spring Planting, Already Late, in U.S. Corn Belt

CHICAGO (AP)—Field work in the corn belt of the United States, already long delayed by spring rains, was near a standstill today because of rain, snow and sleet and farmers were warned a late spring frost may sweep across sections of the mid-west tomorrow.

A mass of cold air from the Mackenzie basin in Canada, extended over the area and temperatures dropped to near freezing in many sections and below 32 degrees in parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Snow fell to a depth of 12 inches in Nebraska, to more than five inches in Wyoming and four inches in Iowa. Snow and sleet also swept over parts of Colorado, Minnesota, South Dakota and Wisconsin. Lowest temperature in the cold belt Wednesday was 15 above at Eckman, N.D.

At Kenosha, Wis., one fishing boat, with three persons reported aboard, was long overdue from a fishing trip in Lake Michigan. Tides that rose and fell as much as five feet battered the harbor at Kenosha and other nearby ports for several hours.

In the corn belt, work in the fields was further delayed by rains and snow, with virtually no planting of corn the last week in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin,

Kansas, Iowa, Michigan and Nebraska.

A prolonged hot spell in western Washington created critical forest fire conditions.

Gen. Franz Boehme Eludes War Trial By Leap To Death

NUERNBERG (AP)—Gen. Franz Boehme, indicted for war crimes alleged to have been committed during the German occupation of Yugoslavia, died early today of a skull fracture suffered in a suicide leap in the Nuernberg prison.

Boehme eluded guards while walking in a corridor in a third-floor tier of cells late Wednesday night and jumped over a rail. His fall was broken by a catwalk two tiers below.

He was a principal defendant in a case prepared by the United States against 12 German military leaders in the Balkans and Norway. He was indicted May 10 on charges that he rounded up hostages and issued orders for their execution.

Indicted with him were two field marshals, List and Von Weichs, and nine other generals. Boehme was the fifth important prisoner to commit suicide in the U.S.-guarded Nuernberg prison. Three, including Hermann Goering, were defendants before the International Military Tribunal.

Since then an S.S. colonel and Boehme cut short their own prosecutions by leaping from the top tier of cells. The fall to the main floor is about 50 feet. A sixth would-be suicide, an S.S. officer, fractured his spine in such a leap, but recovered.

Spoonful of GOODNESS

"These Shreddies" sure taste good, Mummy! That's what young folks think of these delicious spoon-size morsels. And mothers know that Shreddies help build strong, healthy bodies too. They're made from whole wheat, with the precious wheat germ and all the other good parts of Nature's best food. Be sure to have Shreddies for breakfast tomorrow. They're really spoonfuls of goodness.

After school treat
Out of school and into the box of Shreddies. Handy to carry in the pocket—crunchy Shreddies are great for afternoon appetites.

Exquisite China, Ivories At Colwood Park Museum

Pair of Ivory vases and censor of the Chien Lung period, 1780-1800.

Group of old Ivory figures, a famille rose peachbloom vase, a Po ku or hundred antique vase, and a famille verte dish of the Kang H'si dynasty, 1662-1722.

A recent addition to Victoria's list of entertainments is the Colwood Park Museum, situated on the Island Highway facing the Colwood golf course.

The Chinese residence with the upturned eaves was designed and built by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bailey seven years ago as a fitting sanctuary for the rare treasures collected during the course of 20 years.

In a spacious Chinese room are displayed an exceedingly fine collection of early Chinese ivory carvings, some of which have been recently published and illustrated in a leading art magazine in England. These old Peking ivories are considered to be one of the finest collections in this part of the hemisphere. There are fine quality porcelains dating from the early Ming times. There are bronzes of archaic form centuries old, also some jade carvings and beautiful embroideries.

In the European section can be seen exquisite china representing well-known factories of years gone by. The silver cabinet contains important examples, some by celebrated makers, dating from Charles I through succeeding periods to the late Georgian times.

To those interested in such things as old clocks and watches they will find this department well represented in such makers as Joseph Knibb who was clockmaker to Charles II. There are gold watches, one by Thomas Mudge, who invented the lever escapement and was watchmaker to George III. John Elliott is represented by a musical bracket clock embellished in ornate mountings on ebonized pearwood. He flourished from 1706-1772 and was appointed clockmaker to George II.

HOLLYWOOD'S GAIN—Hollywood's beauty barometer rose a notch or two when British actress Patricia Medina signed up for her screen debut. Wife of movie star Richard Greene, she will appear in the film "Moss Rose."

Hollywood

DOUBLE FOR RITA—JUST IN CASE

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD (NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Very quietly Orson Welles has placed under personal contract the French actress, Barbara Laage. Orson had her standing by, we hear, during filming of "The Lady From Shanghai"—just in case Rita Hayworth had walked out on the picture as well as on him.

Richard Ney just turned down a Broadway play offer pending his reconciliation with Greer Garson... Glenn Ford and Eleanor Powell are cooking up a deal to do a movie together... Jack LaRue would like to do the film biography of Valentino.

Bette Davis' first movie, following the recent birth of her baby, will be "African Queen," a story of the Congo after World War I. The queen is a riverboat, not Bette... Doug Fairbanks Jr.'s two leading ladies, Maria Montez and Paule Croset, are feuding, but deliciously, on the set of "The Exile."

LARAINÉ AND WAR

Now that Laraine Day is back in the headlines, here's a story about her agent we had never heard before. His name is Marty Martyn.

For almost six years Marty devoted practically 24 hours a day trying to further the career of Laraine. He started when she was just another actress at M-G-M and fought for her all the way to stardom. Marty never met a producer or a director without immediately talking about Laraine, selling her for this role or that role.

One day Marty rushed into the executive dining-room at M-G-M with big news he had just heard. "Russia," he announced to the roomful of executives, "has just declared war on Japan."

Mervyn LeRoy turned around in his chair, looked at Marty and said simply: "Tell me, Marty, is that good for Laraine Day?"

"Talking about a certain Hollywood character who got married, Ed Gardner said: 'He didn't know what he was doing. She caught him when he was cold sober.'... Peggy Lee, blonde thrush at the Bodega, will make her film debut in "Midnight Serenade."

FROWNING ON LOVE

The censors are frowning on those love scenes between Susan Hayward and Bob Cummings in "Lost Moment"... Lou Busch is writing a Broadway musical to star his wife, Janet Blair... Mae West will go to London for a stage version of "Diamond Lil."

Olivia de Havilland is planning to make only one picture a year now. But she may accept one of four big offers to do a radio series... Joan Crawford will go to New York for the premiere of "Possessed" in June.

Promised but not hoped for: Wallace Beery dancing a rumba for "Allas a Gentleman." Me thinks it will be allas a rumba!

Rangoon is a stronghold of Buddhism.

NEW WOOLENS Wash Softer, Fluffier Than With Any Soap!

When washed in DrefT suds your precious new woollens are a joy to look at—a delight to feel! No soapy deposit to coarsen woollens and dim their colors. Your lovely new sweaters and baby things wash softer and fluffier than ever before. Yes, softer and fluffier than with even the most expensive soap flakes!

STOCKINGS Wear Longer! Look Lovelier Than Ever Before!

You'll be delighted at DrefT's gentleness to stockings! DrefT suds leave no soapy film to heavy-up hose and cloud their beauty. Colors stay fresh far longer than with any soap. What's more—nightly DrefT washing prolongs stocking life—gives noticeably longer wear!

LINGERIE Stays Brighter and Fresher!

No Soap-Fading! It's the greatest suds discovery in 2000 years! You'll agree when you see how your lovely lingerie stays color-bright and fresh far longer when washed with DrefT. There's no film to cause soap-fading. DrefT's rich suds keep your pretty slips, blouses, "undies" brighter and fresher than any soap could ever do.

The demand for DrefT is tremendous. If your dealer is out of DrefT, please be patient—there will be more DrefT soon.

Earrings Bring Luck To Blondie

Penny Singleton says she isn't superstitious, but in every picture in which she appears she wears a pair of finely-wrought antique gold earrings. They were given to her by her grandmother when she was a little girl.

"Every time I've worn them," the pert, blonde actress says, "I've had such good luck, I don't want to stop wearing them now."

Miss Singleton currently is featured with Arthur Lake and Larry Simms "Blondie's Holiday," 20th in Columbia's "Blondie" series, tomorrow playing at the Dominion Theatre.

'Favorite Brunette' On Atlas Screen

Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour are teamed for the seventh time in Paramount's new comedy release, "My Favorite Brunette," which is now at the Atlas Theatre.

In "My Favorite Brunette," Hope, who plays a private eye with cold feet, for a great change, has no rival for the affection of Miss Lamour, and he certainly makes the most of it.

In addition to the stars, "My Favorite Brunette" features a stellar supporting cast including Peter Lorre, Lon Chaney, John Hoyt, Reginald Denny, Ann Doran and Jack La Rue.

PLAZA THEATRE

One of the most difficult problems faced by cameramen while filming the Universal-International hit release, "Stairway to Heaven," now playing at the Plaza Theatre, was showing a teardrop on a rose.

Hundreds of various liquids—even real tears—were tested, but none would produce a clear, colorless globule on the rose in the developed technicolor film. Cameraman Jack Cardiff finally discovered the magic potion. The formula: equal parts of glycerine, mineral oil and gelatin.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Ray Milland, who co-stars with Teresa Wright in Paramount's "The Imperfect Lady," at the Capitol Theatre, has made four guest appearances on the "Information Please" radio program.

Milland reveals that his favorite indoor pleasure is reading the Encyclopedia Britannica, which perhaps explains the high batting average he has maintained in answering the program's questions.

Left to right: Maj.-Gen. C. P. Fenwick, who served with Sir Percy as deputy director of medical services of the First Canadian Army on D-Day and is now chief of medical services for Canadian Pacific Railway, who was on hand to meet him; Sir Percy, Lady Tomlinson, and Capt. ## B.C. Has Highest Rates Of Doctors To Population In Canada

WINNIPEG (CP)—In proportion to its population, British Columbia now has more medical men—approximately 1,400—than any other western province, giving it a ratio of one doctor to every 785.5 inhabitants.

A survey by the Canadian Press showed today that Manitoba is next in line with 726 doctors, one to 1,032 of population; then Alberta, with 689, one for every 1,200 Albertans, and finally Saskatchewan with approximately 577 physicians, a ratio of roughly: one to 1,500 inhabitants.

The relatively favorable position of British Columbia is attributed to its desirable living conditions, future prospects and good climate, which have resulted in an influx of physicians from the United Kingdom and eastern Canada. The same claim is put forward for Alberta.

Authorities point out, however, that many qualifications govern figures of practitioners registered. They include some at or near retirement age, and others who are teaching, in administrative positions or who are members of legislatures, which means they do not give full time to their practices. Furthermore, the totals fluctuate constantly, so that the figures at best are only approximate.

The University of British Columbia at Vancouver has a pre-medical class. Last October 21 physicians graduated from the University of Alberta medical school at Edmonton, and 45 first-year students now are registered.

There are approximately 80 first-year medical students enrolled at the University of Saskatchewan. It confers no medical degrees yet, but will do so when the college now under construction is functioning.

Dr. C. J. Kirk, director of hospital planning and administration for Saskatchewan, says the province will have "no qualms" about inducing physicians to settle there when it is able to provide homes and hospitals in which they can work.

Oak Bay Redrafts School By-law

Oak Bay Council at a special meeting Wednesday ordered changes made to certain clauses of its by-law to raise the sum of $309,000 for the Oak Bay share of the Greater Victoria School proposed school construction program.

The council also received a reply to its letter addressed to the Superintendent of Education which asked him if he knew whether funds had been provided by the Legislature in its estimates sufficient to cover half of the $3,913,825 proposed to be spent on the Greater Victoria School building program. The council was of the opinion that no funds had been set aside by the Legislature for the building program as stipulated in the Cameron report.

The council's interest in the matter lay partly in the fact that the Corporation of Oak Bay would be directly responsible for some $309,000 of the amount required for the entire project, and the debentures to be issued to the extent of $309,000 would be a liability of the corporation.

In reply, the Department of

Chinaware Selling Fast In Victoria

Possibility of a shortage of imported china within the next few months was foreshadowed today by local retailers.

Retailers said they feared repercussions from the closing down of English potteries last winter caused by the shortage of fuel and floods. Buyers visiting England had reported that English factories were using up reserve stocks manufactured prior to the industrial shutdown which lasted for some weeks.

"They may make up for lost time," said one storekeeper, "at any rate if there is a shortage we hope it won't come before the end of the tourist season."

Storekeepers said they were making a brisk trade with American tourists and in some lines of pottery were unable to keep up with the demand.

Well over $2,000 dollars of chinaware was sold in the city within the last few days, one shopkeeper estimated.

American visitors were buying up English China because in some cases they paid three times as much for the same goods in their own country, it was explained.

Education said it was not necessary for the department to make provision in its estimates for the current year for 50 per cent of the total cost of the building program for district No. 61. It was pointed out that when the superintendent of education approved the building program, assurance was given that the program would be carried out over a number of years.

No. 3268 A By-law

To widen Blanshard Street and to appropriate land and real property in aid of the improvement of Blanshard Street under provisions of the "Municipal Act."

The Municipal Council of The Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

1. For the purpose of widening Blanshard Street, at its intersection with Pembroke Street, the lands and real property described as ALL AND SINGULAR certain parcel or tract of land situated in Section Three (3) of the City, and being a part of Lot Nineteen-A (19-A), Block "A," as shown on Land Registry Office Plan Eight (8), which part may be more particularly described as follows:

"All that part of the said Lot 19-A which lies east of a line from a point on the east boundary of the said Lot 19-A, which point is thirty and sixty-five hundredths feet (30.65') distant in a northerly direction from the south-east corner of said Lot 19-A, to a point on the south boundary of the said Lot 19-A, which point is distant ten and five one-hundredths feet (10.05') in a westerly direction from the southeast corner of said Lot 19-A."

said parcel said to contain one hundred and fifty-four (154) square feet, more or less, and being colored red on a plan dated the 19th day of August, 1946, is a copy of which plan is attached hereto; are hereby appropriated and shall be entered upon, taken and used.

2. The said strip of land described in the preceding section shall be taken and measured from the present street lines of Blanshard Street and Pembroke Street as shown upon the official map of the City of Victoria, and the lot number mentioned in the said paragraph is the lot number as shown upon the said official map.

3. The expropriation hereby made and the widening of said portion of Blanshard Street is in aid of the improvement of Blanshard Street at the point above described, and any compensation and damages payable in respect thereof, and otherwise consequent upon the passing of this By-law, shall be chargeable to and payable out of general funds of the Municipality.

4. Any real property injuriously affected by the carrying out of the work of widening and expropriation hereof may be entered upon by the workmen and employees of the said Corporation, or of any contractor employed to carry out the works, and they are hereby authorized so to enter to execute any works of construction, maintenance or repair in mitigation of injury done or apprehended, or in mitigation of compensation claimable by reason of or through the carrying out of the works hereby authorized.

5. This By-law may be cited as "Blanshard Street (at Pembroke Street) Expropriation By-law, 1947."

Passed by the Municipal Council the twenty-eighth day of April, A.D. 1947. Resolved, adopted and finally passed by the Municipal Council the 12th day of May, A.D. 1947.

ED. WILLIAMS, ACTING MAYOR.
M. F. HUNTER, CITY CLERK.

Another Frosty Night On Prairies

WINNIPEG (CP)—Temperatures over most of the prairies dropped to the low 20's, again Wednesday night and there were prospects today of one more night's frost before the unseasonably cold weather would begin to wane.

As the cold mass moved down into the United States, bringing below-freezing temperatures and snow as far south as northern Indiana, farmers in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba began to estimate their losses.

Alberta's sugar beet industry feared damage to between 15 and 35 per cent of the thinned crop. Planting of about 30,000 acres had been practically completed when the cold came. But the farmers' greatest concern was for flax, late-seeded fields of which now are an inch or two high.

In Manitoba, officials at the Dominion Government experimental station near Brandon said the 16 degrees of frost recorded Tuesday night had caused damage ranging from 100 per cent to cabbage to 10 per cent to carrots. Reports also had been received of damage to barley and oats.

U.S. Stock Markets Closed Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP)—All United States security and commodity exchanges will close Friday in observance of Memorial Day and all but a handful of commodity markets will be recessed until Monday, as the majority start a summer schedule of Saturday closings.

London and Canadian security, grain and metal markets will be open Friday as usual, but all except the Winnipeg Grain Market will close this Saturday.

The Chicago Board of Trade and other United grain exchanges will be open this Saturday, and all other Saturdays, but the Chicago cotton and securities markets will close Saturdays through September.

New York stock, curb and wool exchanges will also close on Saturdays through September, as will all out-of-town stock exchanges.

The Chicago mercantile exchange and the New York rubber market are closed Saturdays until further notice.

Special Dividend On Beatty Bros. Shares

Beatty Bros. Ltd. rearrangement of capital stock providing for a special dividend of $5 per share on Class A and for immediately thereafter changing both A and B shares into common shares of no par value was sanctioned May 23, by order of Mr. Justice Wilson at Osgoode Hall. Application for supplementary letters patent to make the plan effective will be made to the Secretary of State immediately.

Mrs. Goering Arrested

London Market

LONDON (Reuter)—A drop in British government securities brought about by provincial selling and absence of institutional support featured today's London stock exchange trading.

The decline was sharp and affected other domestic issues. More speculative golds, copper and oil stocks rallied in the closing part of the session, but it was not extensive.

Foreign bonds were generally quiet although the eastern were slack. Foreign rails were active with Argentine firming.

HOPE FOR MIRACLE IN CRICKET BATTLE—While science and the seagulls joined forces in battle against hordes of crop-threatening Mormon crickets at Pendleton, Ore., three-year-old Sharon Pitzer helps sweep up a few of the pests killed on her mother's doorstep. As millions of the migrating crickets near one of the richest agricultural areas in Oregon, seagulls, seldom seen so far inland, have been attracted to the impromptu feast. Residents hope their attack might repeat the miracle of 1848, when the gulls saved the crops of Mormon pioneers in Salt Lake valley. Just in case of seagulls' failure, crops are being sprayed with quantities of a new chemical.

Calgary Will Seek Grid Championship

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary will be represented in the Western Canada Football League come next fall and the squad will be coached by Dean Griffing with Hal Harrison as his assistant. Jack Grogan, president of the Stampeder Football Club, made the announcement last night after players discussed matters with team management and decided to go ahead.

Windsor Sees Attlee
